

English Language and Literacy in Curriculum Learning

A one year course to prepare students (14-16) with limited or disrupted schooling and new to English and literacy for further curriculum studies. The course has two main themes, Negotiating Social Relations in School and Finding and Using Curriculum Information. These are sub-divided into sections and have their own teaching focus and a selection of class activities, which aim to support the academic success and personal development of EAL students new to school.
