

% of residents attending education provision

** Private/other is the difference between the population and the maintained schools and alternative provision.

Notes

The figures above are estimates. They have been calculated using imported and exported pupils data, along with Office of National Statistics (ONS) population data (2008 mid-year estimates). The data should be treated with caution due to the unstable nature of population estimates.

Comments

- Of an estimated 12,268 children of primary school age living in Kensington and Chelsea 39% attend a RBKC primary school (4,733).
- Of an estimated 7,094 children of secondary school age living in Kensington and Chelsea 21% attend a RBKC secondary school (1,490).
- A higher proportion of primary school aged residents attend local schools than secondary school aged children (39% compared to 21%).
- 3% of primary aged residents attended maintained schools out of the Borough, compared to 21% at secondary.
- The proportion of primary and secondary aged residents attending private/other education was similar (58% and 56%, respectively).
- The proportion of local children attending private/other education is considerably higher than the average England and London rate of 7%.