

English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) Courses

English courses are offered both by state colleges and private organisations.

We strongly suggest that you carefully consider the following before enrolling on any course:

- Price
- Class size
- Length of course
- Qualifications offered
- Hours of study per week
- Facilities (e.g. access to a library)

State Colleges & Adult Education Centres

These are mainly funded by Local Government. The courses are reasonably priced and may offer reductions for people who live in the area. Courses usually start in September and end in July, although some colleges run summer classes. Each college will usually have a telephone information line with up-to-date details of places on courses.

Lists of these courses can be found at the following websites:

- Floodlight: Full Time; Part Time & Evening; Summertime (www.floodlight.co.uk)
- Hot Courses: Full Time & Part Time (www.hotcourses.com)

Private Colleges

Private colleges are profit-making organisations that run courses at all times of the year. The easiest place to search for these is in the Yellow Pages (under English Language Schools). Copies of West London and London Central are held at the Enquiry Desk in the Central Reference Library.

Other Resources

Private Tuition

These are informal arrangements between yourself and another individual. The library does not hold any official lists of private tutors but many people advertise their services on the Community Notice Board (Central Lending).

The website www.abceda.com contains lists of language schools and private tutors, interactive online exercises, job vacancies and a message board.
