PROPOSED BT CELLNET LTD TELECOMMUNICATIONS INSTALLATION
AT TRANSCO GAS HOLDING STATION, KENSAL GREEN HOUSE, CANAL
WAY, LITTLE WORMWOOD, LONDON. W10 5AJ
NGR: E. 523491 N. 182346

We are enclosing a full application for the installation of telecommunications equipment within the perimeter of the Transco Gas Holding Station, Kensal Green House, Canal Way, Little Wormwood, London, together with the associated documentation and drawings. The application is on behalf of BT Cellnet Limited.

We have enclosed the following information:

- a) Four copies of the signed planning application form.
- b) Four copies of the drawing TQ/0967/001 - 004.
- c) A cheque for the planning fee of £95.
- d) A copy of the Certificate under Article 7.

BT Cellnet Limited is a Public Telecommunications Code System Operator and as such has been licensed by the Department of Trade & Industry to provide a communications system covering the United Kingdom.

Under Part 24 of the Town & Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 BT Cellnet Limited would be able to carry out permitted development in accordance with Part 24. However, the proposed installation involves the erection of a 20m-lattice tower with 6 No. sector antennas plus the necessary equipment cabin & ancillary equipment, therefore full planning is required.

The installation of the lattice tower & 6 No. sector antenna with the required equipment cabin will improve links in BT Cellnets network of installations in the Kensal Green and Kensal Town area including the existing road infrastructure and is in accordance with Central Government guidance with regard to the upgrade of existing installations, rather than placing equipment on Greenfield sites.

We are also able to confirm that BT Cellnet have advised us that the emissions from their antenna fall below the guidelines set by both the ICNIRP (International Commission for Non-Ionising Radiation Protection) and the NRPB (National Radiological Protection Board).

We therefore trust that you will be able to recommend this application for approval to the relevant committee and will be pleased to respond to any queries, which you may have in connection with the above, and enclosures.

Yours faithfully
