Subject: NHM - variation of condition application for the Butterfly Exhibition [NLP.FID23122]

Dear Brian,

When we spoke with you on Tuesday you indicated that the Variation of Condition Application for the Butterfly Exhibition at the Natural History Museum would be passed onto Sarah by Wednesday of this week at the latest and that the 21 day consultation period would commence accordingly. You indicated that your colleague, Aziz, would be dealing with this. However, when we spoke with him earlier today he confirmed that the application was indeed given to Sarah yesterday, but that the consultation letters would not be sent out until the 15 April as it is Council practice to date the consultation letters 3 days after the date that the application is received the case officer.

As mentioned in my previous email (4 April), we are concerned with the time delay that has taken place between the application being registered on the 13 March and the start of the consultation period on the 15 April (particularly as the website indicated that it would commence on 4 April and that we have received conflicting advice about the progress of the application). If it is possible to issue the consultation letters any sooner than the 15 April it would be greatly appreciated.

Kind regards,

Rachel Lucas
