

Business Information Point

Start or grow your business

Our Business Information Point at Kensington Central Library offers practical advice on how to set up or stay in business. This includes:

- finding new contacts to develop your company
- creating a mailing list
- researching the latest information
- free access to a wide range of books on business and finance
- business-related journals and online resources

Online resources

We have two key database subscriptions:

- Mint UK [1] provides business information about large organisations to help you create mailing lists and research potential buyers, suppliers and competitors.
Mint is available from Kensington Central Library and you can save information on a USB stick or email attachment.
- COBRA [2] is a business reference adviser that provides up-to-date information and business ideas to help you start your own businesses.
COBRA is available in the library or remotely using your library card number.

Events and workshops

The library hosts free workshops and networking events about setting up and running a business. The events:

- provide opportunities to meet and learn from successful business owners in your industry
- explore understand current risks, challenges and possibilities.
