Brownfield Land Register

The Council's Brownfield Land Register provides up-to-date and consistent information on sites that we consider to be appropriate for residential development. We review our register at least once a year.

The register is in two parts:

- Part 1 lists brownfield sites that meet the relevant criteria [1]. These criteria are that sites should be at least 0.25 hectares or capable of supporting at least 5 dwellings and they are suitable, available and achievable.
- Part 2 lists brownfield sites that are granted permission in principle [2].

We currently only have sites listed in part 1 because there are no sites that have been granted permission in principle.
