GENERAL

1. While the law requires that some particular local authority decisions or types of decisions are taken (or functions exercised by) Full Council, by the Council’s Executive (called the ‘Leadership Team’ here at the Council) or by specific Council committees, many decisions are in practice delegated to officers, i.e. Councillors give senior officers the authority to take those decisions, usually of a more routine type, on their behalf.

2. All such delegated powers are exercised in accordance with Council policies, within any financial limits imposed and within any guidelines prescribed by the Executive or the committee which delegated that authority.

3. Where the exercise of a function delegated to officers is marked with an asterisk in this document, the responsibility for setting any charge in connection with that function is reserved to the relevant Executive Member or Committee as appropriate, and is not delegated to officers.

4. All delegated powers are derived from either the Council, or a committee thereof, or the Executive. The source of each delegation is specified in the body of the list of delegations.

5. Any matter that does not fall within the key decision definition at Part Four, Section One, paragraph 1.20 of the Constitution is delegated to the relevant officer of the Authority.

6. All executive directors and directors are authorised to make arrangements for the proper administration of the functions falling within their responsibility. An executive director may authorise a director or head of service, and a director may authorise a head of service, to act as their deputy with power to exercise any of the powers of the authorising executive director or director respectively. Such departmental schemes of delegation must be kept in writing and up-to-date. An executive director or director may exercise any of the functions delegated to directors or heads of service within their directorate.

7. Where a particular matter under delegated authority gives the officer (or the relevant Executive Member or chairman) cause for concern, it should be the subject of a report to the relevant Executive Member or committee.

8. Executive Members or committees may reserve to themselves decisions that have been delegated to officers by giving notice to the relevant director.

9. Where any new power or duty is given to the Council, the exercise of that power or duty will be undertaken by the relevant executive director or director until such time as the allocation of responsibility has been determined by the Leader or the Council.

10. In all cases where the exercise of executive functions is not specifically reserved to the executive, those functions are deemed to be delegated to the Chief Executive and the executive director and/or director with responsibility for the relevant function as set out in this Part of the Constitution.

11. Delegated decisions which are taken under (a) a specific express authorisation or (b) under a general authorisation and which grant a permission or licence, affect the rights of an individual or which is an Executive Decision must be recorded and published in accordance with the requirements of the relevant regulations.
