Dear Sir or Madam,

I have been asked to send you my opinion on basement development in our area. It occurs to me that you probably have had a great many emails stating the obvious reasons, but I would just like to say how a basement dug which at the time was the largest basement ever built in our area and in the smallest cul de sac.

Between 2006 and 2008 my husband spent the last two years of his life in incredible pain and surrounded by deafening noise of trucks and building works day in and day out. Trying to care for a loved one in there last days is difficult especially when you can hardly hear yourself think.

I had no support from the council during this time. So I am pleased that you now taking this matter seriously. Mr r ents his property so we went through all that misery for his financial gain. My husband always said he wouldn't live long enough to see it finished and he didn't.

Yours sincerely

Jane Gell
