	Re	espon	ses t	o leaf	let fr	om W	EBSI	ΤE		Gaps where no input was submitted	d have been removed	Blue text sections have been extracted onto separate sheet for legibility
ID		hening ide			oving stre			ring buildir architectur		Strengthening identity of town centre Improving streets a	and public spaces	Improving buildings and architecture
	e f u r b	R e f r e	R e t h i	e f u r b i	R e f r e	R e t h i	e f u r b	R e f r e	R e t h i	NB Nos 1-399 are postal responses
400	h	h	 k 1	h	h 1	k	h	h	 k 1			these buildings are horrid and not in keeping with the Victorian high street
401			1	1			1					construction
402		1	1			1 1			1 1	Anything short of a rethink is a missed opportunity for the area for a generation. During the recent road closure it was clear for all locals to understand the impact traffic has on the centre of the area.  Reducing the number of lanes increasing pedestrian introducing cycle lanes in a must.  Developers should be encouraged to construct new high rise building to tie in with some of the existing residential stock in the area and create a new vibrant centre to be enjoyed by locals and tourists who come for the market but have a shocking first impression of one of the more beautiful areas in Holland Park and Notting Hill behind.  Thank you for taking your time in reading my comments and in conclusion please don't miss this opportunity for a total rethink of the area.	w to cope.	Tall buildings on their own can look out of context so it should be encouraged to allow developers to demolish and build taller buildings to match in with these three large 50/60s buildings.  The mayor encourages higher rise buildings next to public transport sites
404			1			1	1
405			1			1			1	I am supportive of anything that enhances thee dynamic, family-friendly aspect of the area. Also would be greatly supportive of a subway that funnels people onto Pembridge Road instead of the crowded sidewalks of Notting Hill Gate.
406			1			1		1		The whole area needs to be pulled together to give it some common identity. As the Portobello Road becomes more downmarket and more popular! - it would be great to have another cultural institution or live	out safer cycling routes.	Taller will take longer - mid-height can still be elegant but will need clean modern design.
407			1			1			1	venue.  Streets - the Gate will never be pleasant until the dual-carriageway is  The Gate is a major arterial route into tamed and walking and cycling are made easier Westminster Council it could be possi route which would shift the balance of towards calmer and greener transport	f traffic away from cars and lorries
408			1			1		1	1
410		1			1				1	Maintain its unique character to distinguish it as a destination different		Use some taller buildings to free up space at ground level for open
411			1			1	1			from Westfield. Secure the future of the farmers market by finding a permanent home for it Pedestrianized section or narrowing traffic to one side of the existing road		spaces for pedestrians, trees and events such as markets.  Improved condition of many buildings would instantly lift street. Maybe
412			1			1			1	width. The recent prolonged water/gas works did not appear to cause unmanageable traffic flows.  Notting Hill Gate is currently a major barrier for cycling in the borough, Notting Hill Gate is currently a major b	barrier for cycling in the borough.	some of colour panels, although possibly in line with original designs, look dated and shabby.  Notting Hill Gate is currently a major barrier for cycling in the borough, and London as a whole. The entire junction is horrible; an essentially 1970s design that encourages large volumes of traffic motor to move through the area at dangerously high speeds, leading to pedestrian and cycling fatalities and actively suppressed rates of walking and cycling. Visitors can still see a white bike with flowers in memory of Ellidh Cairns who was tragically and unnecessarily killed in Notting Hill Gate by a lorry driver in 2009	nction is horrible; an essentially volumes of traffic motor to move speeds, leading to pedestrian and sed rates of walking and cycling. If flowers in memory of Eilidh Cairns killed in Notting Hill Gate by a lorry	and London as a whole. The entire junction is horrible; an essentially 1970s design that encourages large volumes of traffic motor to move through the area at dangerously high speeds, leading to pedestrian and cycling fatalities and actively suppressed rates of walking and cycling. Visitors can still see a white bike with flowers in memory of Eilidh Cairns who was tragically and unnecessarily killed in Notting Hill Gate by a lorry driver in 2009
										Additionally, the entire area has illegal levels of air pollution and nitrogen dioxide levels that rival Beijing. In fact, a specific stretch of Notting Hill Gate is one of the most polluted streets in London.  Additionally, the entire area has illegal dioxide levels that rival Beijing. In fact, Gate is one of the most polluted streets in London.	t, a specific stretch of Notting Hill	Additionally, the entire area has illegal levels of air pollution and nitrogen dioxide levels that rival Beijing. In fact, a specific stretch of Notting Hill Gate is one of the most polluted streets in London.
										The easiest way to solve both these problems is to radically redesign the entire area to provide safe, segregated cycle routes through Notting Hill.  When this has been done in New York it has led to an over 50% rise in local spending, as areas were transformed into 'people places', rather than motor traffic hell. Notting Hill Gate would also benefit from more, and easier pedestrian crossings (including zebra crossings), and a 20 mph limit.	ed cycle routes through Notting Hill. rk it has led to an over 50% rise in ormed into 'people places', rather te would also benefit from more, and	The easiest way to solve both these problems is to radically redesign the entire area to provide safe, segregated cycle routes through Notting Hill. When this has been done in New York it has led to an over 50% rise in local spending, as areas were transformed into 'people places', rather than motor traffic hell. Notting Hill Gate would also benefit from more, and easier pedestrian crossings (including zebra crossings), and a 20 mph limit.
										The Westway is only a few miles north and provides a quick, direct route for motor traffic into Central London. There is no reason, therefore, why Notting Hill Gate should not be re-thought and re-designed as an area that prioritised cyclists and pedestrians (if only because these people don't use vehicles that emit illegal levels of air pollution which lowers everyone in the area's life expectancy.	There is no reason, therefore, why bught and re-designed as an area ns (if only because these people rels of air pollution which lowers	The Westway is only a few miles north and provides a quick, direct route for motor traffic into Central London. There is no reason, therefore, why Notting Hill Gate should not be re-thought and re-designed as an area that prioritised cyclists and pedestrians (if only because these people don't use vehicles that emit illegal levels of air pollution which lowers everyone in the area's life expectancy.
413	1					1	1			One of the council's core aims is to encourage alternative transport to private car use, such as cycling and walking. The council would be ignoring and actively refuting its core aims if it did not, therefore, use this ignoring and actively refuting its core aims.	walking. The council would be	One of the council's core aims is to encourage alternative transport to private car use, such as cycling and walking. The council would be ignoring and actively refuting its core aims if it did not, therefore, use this
414	1				1			1		tenants who have leases on the north side of Notting Hill Gate. Retail
415	·		1		,	1		1		shops
416	1					1		1		Notting Hill Gate is currently fairly awfu Pedestrians and cyclists are surround polluting traffic, making this a fairly un desperately needs wider pavements ( the Pembridge Road / Notting Hill Gate dedicated cycle lanes separated from	ded by six lanes of fast moving, pleasant location. The area (currently it can get very crowded on te corner) and high quality, both the road and pedestrians.
417	1					1			1	If anything were to make Notting Hill G would be this.  The weekly Farmers Market in the car park is absolutely fantastic, and is	Jace a more auractive destination it now an integral part of Notting Hill. Any/all plans that are developed must include a central and workable space for the market to thrive as it now does with generous space for the stalls and people who visit.
418			1			1			1	I'd like to add the following, and emphi almost anywhere you chose in the wh is a horrible experience except in park should not be the case that a relatively dominated by motor vehicles. And that over ALL other forms of mobility.	nole of London, cycling and walking ks and along bits or the river. It lly flat and compact city is so
										Notting Hill Gate is currently a major b and London as a whole. The entire jun 1970's design that encourages large w through the area at dangerously high s cycling fatalities and actively suppress Visitors to the area can still see a whit Eilidh Cairns who was tragically and w	inction is horrible; an essentially volumes of traffic motor to move speeds, leading to pedestrian and used rates of walking and cycling, ite bike with flowers in memory of
										Hill Gate by a lorry driver in 2009. It is near the spot where she was killed, bo remind the Council that something des prevent more wholly avoidable deaths	s right that this 'ghost bike' remains both in memory to Eilidh and to esperately needs to be done to s occurring here.
										Additionally, the entire area has illegal dioxide levels that rival Beijing. In fact, Gate is one of the most polluted street	t, a specific stretch of Notting Hill ets in London.
										The easiest way to solve both these p entire area to provide safe, segregate including bus stop by-passes for cyclir New York it has led to an over 50% ris transformed into 'people places', rathe Gate would also henefit from more, an (including zebra crossings), and a 20 r	d cycle routes through Notting Hill ing. When this has been done in ise in local spending, as areas were er than motor traffic hell. Notting Hill nd easier pedestrian crossings
419	1					1	1			Notting Hill Farmers market should be supported and relocation would not be ideal - especially if it was to a lesser known area. It is unique to the area and would be a great disadvantage to lose it / move it.		tall buildings are not necessarily the way forward, we need to work with what we have and make them look the best they can be - this could mean restructuring the facades / rebuilding these blocks to update and modernise them but keeping to the same height in order to ensure a
420		1				1		1		The Saturday Farmers' Market is one of our family's favourite parts of In this case, the Tube station entrance		consistent look and feel are kept - and the area maintains is character
										Notting Hill. It would be great to give it a new, more visible home if needed (although it's certainly crowded enough already!). It is a vital and wonderful part of this community, and we strongly support doing whatever is necessary to keep it as part of the neighbourhood.

421						1			1	For sure a popular tourist and living destination I've always thought NHG	For sure a popular tourist and living destination I've always thought NHG	For sure a popular tourist and living destination I've always thought NHG
						'				is not realising its potential. The towers need to be demolished and	is not realising its potential. The towers need to be demolished and	is not realising its potential. The towers need to be demolished and Bayswater road should be modernised. It should more resemble Ken Higl Street's art deco design than an east end suburb. The area from NHG	Bayswater road should be modernised. It should more resemble Ken High Street's art deco design than an east end suburb. The area from NHG	Bayswater road should be modernised. It should more resemble Ken High Street's art deco design than an east end suburb. The area from NHG station to Kensington gardens is particularly grotty, made worse by kebal shops and that grimy record shore. Rather than an short term refresh a	station to Kensington gardens is particularly grotty, made worse by kebab shops and that grimy record shore. Rather than an short term refresh a	station to Kensington gardens is particularly grotty, made worse by kebab shops and that grimy record shore. Rather than an short term refresh a radical rethink is badly needed and should really have been completed	radical rethink is badly needed and should really have been completed	radical rethink is badly needed and should really have been completed
422	1			1				1		years ago. Please keep the wonderful Farmers Market	years ago.	years ago.
423						1		1		important to keep the market
424			1			1			1
425	1				1		1			Yes, allowing some shops to become fovers for refurbished offices above	Given that Notting Hill Gate has been closed to traffic recently for a period
1.20										will do nothing positive towards making Notting Hill Gate a more vibrant	of months, any work would have to take into consideration the frustration place to stop and spend some quality time.	of drivers in the area at this situation and try not to negatively impact their day-to-day movement.
											More signage is definitely required for Portobello Rd market.
											Pavement do not necessarily require widening, however making the roads more easy to stop and potentially bringing in a reduced speed limit will 426	_		1			1					make it more people friendly.
427										The Caturday formers modulet in the east park habited Weterstones is a
427										The Saturday farmers market in the car park behind Waterstones is a great place to buy excellent produce and is a great meeting place fro the local community and people from further afield. I come every week from Shepherds Bush. There needs to be a place, easily reached by public 428					4					transport for a market. The Saturday farmers market is a local godsend, a new home must be		Ensure sufficient housing is created, and make sure it's affordable for the
					'					found.		majority not only the wealthy
429		1				1				I am not sure why, but I just love the atmosphere at the Sat morning farmer's market. The size and "non-commercial" almost country like	I go to the farmers market by bike. Lack of bike stands doesn't worry me, as most people appear to walk there.	Notting Hill shopping area has a lot to be desired, looks old and tired.
										feeling makes it such a genuine experience. Please please don't loose this local feeling by making it more touristy. I am on first name terms with 3 or 4 store holders and have visited one of the Somerset farms. It is so
430	1					1	1			unpretentious! Thanks The farmer's market is an integral part of the community. It is our	It is so hectic using the tube on the weekends because of all the crowds favourite part of the community and we go every Saturday to pick up produce, eggs and chat with our neighbours. We cannot lose our market	going to Portobello Road. There needs to be better signage (and in produce, eggs and char with our neighbours. We cannot lose our market	Spanish) as well as more space for pedestrians. There are too many cars moving at high-speeds for the amount of pedestrian traffic.
431			1		1		1
432							1			The most important aspect of Notting Hill Gate for me is the farmers'	Cycle lanes would be helpful, but I suspect that is complicated. We	Not more tall buildings! It will change the character of the area, and
432										market. I go every week to do all my non-supermarket shopping there as	cyclists have to take our lives in our hands, particularly on the mini	detract from the village atmosphere
										I rely on contact with the farmers to establish the nutritional value of my food.	roundabout on the way to Portobello market
400			4			1				Second in line is the Gate cinema, which we go to a dozen times a year.
433			'			(			,
434		1			1			1		Refresh but maintain farmer's market - it's charm an exceptionally delicious produce brings life to this otherwise desolate area, making it a
435		1				1	1			must for locals.
400						'
436			1			1		1
437	-		1			1		1
			· ·
438	1					1	1
439	1
	_ `									Hannetty I think any of these ideas and walk I would have to see		Disease area was lead (non abain) husinessed Make Netting Util Cate
440			1			1				Honestly, I think any of these ideas could work. I would love to see Notting Hill Gate be a more welcoming area. And I would love to see a		Please encourage local (non chain) businesses! Make Notting Hill Gate special and not just another cookie cutter high street area with exactly the museum or gallery as well anything that would encourage arts / artists and/or lingering in the area would be good. I did want to make a specific		same shops as everywhere else!
										plea for the farmer's market we go there nearly every week and love the market. Please make sure plans are made to keep it! Moving it isn't a bac idea, actually, as the space it is in isn't a) attractive or b) easy to find for newcomers to the market. I live closer to the northern end of Portobello and confess that I don't make it down to NHG that often partly because there's nothing to attract me there. I'd love to see neighbourhood space for classes (We used to live in St. Petersburg, Florida and they had an amazing Arts Center - http://www.theartscenter.org/ that had gallery exhibitions as well as classes on a variety of topics and was well supported by the community that helped revitalize downtown). And, as a local author, I'd love to see things like http://www.amusingplanet.com/2012/09/britains-telephone-box-libraries.html something that locals could use.
441												Only if this includes pedestrian and cyclist consideration at its heart
			1			1			1	Pedestrians and cyclists chiefly. Both should have their own separate safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane	PLUS more affordable housing
			1			1			1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
442	1		1	1		1	1		1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
	1		1	1		1	1		1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
442	1		1	1		1	1		1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate,, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington,	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington , Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington , Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington , Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't	I see you've included pedestrians and cyclists! add segregated cycle lane
443	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the centure style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % livelines are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy.
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights be classing. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tee, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % livelines are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tee, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate , where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking
443	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of tocal, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would help first time visitor to the area to find Portobello market. These signs could be tastefully and
443	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights be use they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights be classing. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / privatee parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the strete parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the strate parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would he
443	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % of the cancelled.  It would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of tocal, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate , where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around th
444	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the willas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights be caused from indicating this strip the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the strate parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the strate parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the strate parking. Why not re locate the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday morni		PLUS more affordable housing
443	1	1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too, The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tee, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate , where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be parisially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away
444	1	1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would he	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in
443	1	1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tee, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate , where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be parisially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would help first time visitor to the area to find Portobello market. These signs could	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away
444	1	1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of tocal, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and wendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate. Herse signa	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in
443	1	1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would help first time visitors to the area to find Portobello market. These signs could be tas	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in
443	1	1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of tocal, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Tce, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and wendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate. Here as woul	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in
443	1 1	1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cuse must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would help first time visitors to the area to find Portobello market. These signs could be ta	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in
443		1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the willas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights be cues must be of the willas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights (could be Reciad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy.  Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate , where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello mark	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in
443		1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % of the concept of the concep	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas. the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.  The underground should be linked in with the retail if possible on both the	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is
443		1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the reclass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday more parket. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate area would help first time visitors to the area to find Portobello market. These signs could be tastefully and attractive, like the village signs you see in Norfolk, or how much pub signage has been done. If whe happy to design for free.  To	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is also where there should be some public art or even a public museum. The buildings on the north side should be in line and have the same sort
443		1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of tocal, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the straten orth of the gate, where the Bardusy bikes area. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around make, these signs double tastetitive and the area to find Portobellomarket, Desenting and the particular the farmer's market to the area to find Portobellomarket, Dessensibil, but more evergreen trees would be preferred, as the wi	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.  The underground should be linked in with the retail if possible on both the south and north sides in order to create a ground and basement linkage.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is also where there should be some public art or even a public museum.
443		1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Aree to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be relass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday modernity. It would encourage customers and vendors if the ma	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.  The underground should be linked in with the retail if possible on both the south and north sides in order to create a ground and basement linkage.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is also where there should be some public art or even a public museum. The buildings on the north side should be in line and have the same sort
443		1	1	1 1	1	1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher %  I would rather the Farmers market remains as is rather than be moved or cancelled.  There are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of tocal, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Reclad, with glass balconies and non grey gravel cladding. Look at the re class on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the straten orth of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday mornings. It would encourage customers and vendors if the market was more visible. The type of products on offer is not a conflict with Portobello market. Speaking of which, better signage around the gate as essential, and has been indicated shop fronts as foyers could be utilised. Tree planting has been indicated shop fronts as foyers could be perferred, as the winter is amount of the gate particular the farmer's market a	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.  The underground should be linked in with the retail if possible on both the south and north sides in order to create a ground and basement linkage.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is also where there should be some public art or even a public museum. The buildings on the north side should be in line and have the same sort
444		1	1 1 1 1	1 1	1	1 1 1 1	1	1	1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Aree to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be relass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday modernity. It would encourage customers and vendors if the ma	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.  The underground should be linked in with the retail if possible on both the south and north sides in order to create a ground and basement linkage.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is also where there should be some public art or even a public museum. The buildings on the north side should be in line and have the same sort
444		1	1 1 1 1	1 1	1	1 1 1 1 1	1	1	1 1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Aree to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be relass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday modernity. It would encourage customers and vendors if the ma	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.  The underground should be linked in with the retail if possible on both the south and north sides in order to create a ground and basement linkage.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is also where there should be some public art or even a public museum. The buildings on the north side should be in line and have the same sort
444 444 445 446 448		1		1	1	1 1 1 1 1 1 1	1	1	1 1 1 1	safe spaces. Pedestrian seating and cyclist secure parking the latter under roofing - cycle air pumps. Reduce the need for traffic - 20mph zone. Encourage more non chains and affordable housing higher % lives are some low storied buildings on the north and south sides of the Gate, particularly opposite Kensington Church sty, and next to the Coronet. A couple of floors could be added. However the style of architecture should reflect and respect the essence of this Kensington, Notting Hill ambience. The area is attractive because of the villa, stucco, turn of the century style. The area would have more presence and more coherence if this was adhered too. The value of the area is that it looks like it does, and not like Croydon. How will the modernist philistines who allowed Newcombe house and Camden heights be dissuaded from inflicting this third rate architecture on a famous and well loved area, of local, national and international importance? The style cues must be of the villas of the garden squares. Tough on the modernists, but they don't have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be Aree to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be have to live here. Newcombe house and Camden heights, could be relass on Eastbourne Toe, Paddington. Fine lighting in strips, could enhance and add excitement and some glamour to these turgid buildings. This would also add presence and prestige to the night time economy. Many much finer cities in Europe have done this. The car park behind the tube station could be raised to accommodate mews style dwellings, and have public / private parking. Why not re locate the Saturday's farmers market to the street north of the gate, where the Barclays bikes are. This street could be partially blocked off for Saturday modernity. It would encourage customers and vendors if the ma	This is an important route through London. Restricting traffic here, will push it into side streets and other routes, leading to traffic jams and overcrowded areas, the easy flow of traffic also brings tremendous trade and business to the area.  The underground should be linked in with the retail if possible on both the south and north sides in order to create a ground and basement linkage.	A balance of housing and office space is important, but the retail areas should not be overdeveloped so that independent shops are driven away from the area. This erosion of independence has already been seen in Portobello road, and is not what local people desire or want.  Newcombe House is the major eye sore on the Gate. That being said it is also where there should be some public art or even a public museum. The buildings on the north side should be in line and have the same sort

451	1				1	1			If one of the ultimate goals of this redevelopment strategy is to increase	NHG will always be a major thoroughfare, and there seems little scope to	As ugly as they may seem to some, these buildings have been part of
									Notting Hill Gate's popularity among visitors (and residents alike), then option A seems right to me.	'reduce the impact of traffic'. Creating a clearly identifiable route to Portobello Road (e.g. LARGE signs) is, however, an excellent idea, as	Notting Hill Gate for decades and have to some extent shaped the area's character. They should be refurbished.
									Option B i.e. increasing office space, allowing some shops 'to become	would be redesigning the zebra crossings and removing the pedestrian guardrails, etc. (or perhaps merely creating a passage half-way through	If, however, plans go ahead to replace some of them e.g. Newcombe foyers for refurbished offices above' and authorizing the construction of new, high-rise buildings (with or without affordable housing) would be	them).	House with new developments, these should be carefully selected.  Notting Hill must avoid making the same mistakes as others i.e. allowing detrimental to NHG's appeal as a nice place to live or visit, and would lead to further loss of its identity. Also, the Saturday Farmers' Market is a		modern buildings of glass and steel with little or no merit to be built to the tune of much architectural hype and misplaced hubris.
									very important and particularly pleasant aspect of life in NHG, and every effort should be made to encourage it.
									Option C is, however, also very interesting. A museum (of what?) is perhaps a trifle too ambitious, but providing a large exhibition space would enable many different cultural events (exhibitions of painting or 452					1		1		photographs, perhaps small concerts, trade e.g. handicraft fairs, etc.) to be held in NHG and would no doubt attract many people.  I live in Brook Green, and I attend the Farmer Market every Saturday	Pedestrians and cyclists are the people spending money in shops, not
452	'						l '		morning - travelling either on my bike or occasionally by car. There have been numerous occasions when I've been accosted by tourists emerging	people sat in motorcars. I work near Goodge St and travelling through Notting Hill Gate is the fastest way for me to commute to work from Brook from the tube on the High St, clearly expecting a tourist haven, and bewildered by the multiple lanes of heavy motor traffic and uninviting	Green on my bicycle. However I avoid it at all cost during the week because it's very unpleasant on a bike. Instead I add an extra 1.5 miles to shops. I usually point in the direction of Portobello Road. Notting Hill Gate doesn't need a new gallery as a tourist attraction - tourists are already flocking there. To encourage tourists and locals to linger on the High St, the motor traffic needs to be tamed considerably - at the moment the	safely through Notting Hill I would stop and shop at the supermarkets and the lovely Italian deli on my way home from work. Sadly the environment
									High St is noisy, and it stinks of car exhaust and as a pedestrian, it feels very threatening. Why would anyone want to linger? To solve this	is too car centric to make that viable for me at the moment.
									problem, remove some traffic lanes AND reduce the speed limit to 20mph. (I assume that most of the motorized traffic is passing through Notting Hill Gate to a destination elsewhere, rather than stopping to spend money in the local area, so encouraging large volumes of fast moving traffic through the centre is counter productive to the local economy.) Add a cycle lane (and more cycle parking) to provide an alternative to public transport and encourage more, less confident people to travel by bicycle. Widen the pavement, and encourage cafes to provide seating outside on the pavement. Remove the cheap looking pound shops and mobile phone shops and encouraging interesting independent 453			1		1			1	shops to open instead.
454			1		1		1		Changing Notting Hill Gate but retaining Newcomb House for the public	Changing Notting Hill Gate but retaining Newcomb House for the public	Changing Notting Hill Gate on the north side only but retaining Newcomb
455			1	1		1			art displays Notting Hill Gate generally needs an infusion of non-chain high street	art displays	House for the public art displays  Notting Hill Gate already has some dreadful architecture - refurbish to be stores. The area is getting to generic! Essential is also a great home now and in the future for the Saturday		more in line with it's streets and history would be nice.
									Farmers' Market - this is essential and key to our community! Thank you - 456	1						1		My husband and I use the farmers market behind Waterstones pretty well every week. The produce is fantastic and in some cases better value than	difficult or dangerous cycling in NHG	Try to avoid Tower blocks or too tall buildings. Agree Newcombe House is very ugly.
									supermarkets. The organic and non pesticide foods are a real choice over and above supermarket foods. Please ensure that this market is kept.
									When visiting the market we then frequent the shops and nearly always buy a coffee in Apostrophe thereby contributing to the footfall of the shops as well. I think it is important to keep the eclectic and also independent variety of shops in NHG. Don't make it like any other high 457					1		1		street. We do not want NHG to become a building site for ten years. We do want	Great NHG to be an improved thoroughfare by creating a proper bicycle lane, allowing one lane of motorised cars each way, widening the pavements, and perhaps adopting the same scheme as Exhibition Road.  Any refreshment would be welcome bit it is absurd to be suggesting affordable homes in one of the most expensive property areas in the world.
458		1				1
459		1			1		1
460		1			1			1
461			1		1			1	It's crucial for the commercial and social diversity of the area to provide		The area is a mess. A botched job. A dismal legacy of misguided adequate and on-going space for the Farmer's Market. The more prominent and attractive the space, the better, for both stall holders and		generations of planners and developers. The more we can do to transform the environment, the better.
462			1		1				shoppers.		None of the above
											The buildings in the 1960 rebuilding of NHG are the worst in the Royal 463	1				1	1			I would like the Farmers Market to remain where it is. If it's moved it	Leave the Farmers Market where it is.	Borough. Knock them all down and start again needs to be nearby. I have bought all my food from there for many many years. What I eat is important for me. I do not eat from Supermarkets. I now know all the store holders. This place is a lifeline for those who like to know where their food comes from and to know that it's uncontaminated with chemicals, as in being organic or unsprayed. I really do not know what I would do without this place. It's convenient and easy 464	1			1			1		to get to.
105			,
465			1		1		1		We must find a space for the famers market if the car park is not to be retained. In addition too many of the 'shopping' options on Notting Hill		Not too many tall buildings on the street frontage, please. The place will look like a canyon!
100									Gate are shoddy and there is nothing much other than the cinemas to make you want to spend any time there.
466	. 1
467		1		1			1		keep farmer's market in the area because it is a centre fro all sort's of people and attracts them to NH.
468	1				1		1		Sort out rubbish collection. Any day, any time, there are always bags of	Better bus stops would be a huge improvement.
									rubbish on the pavements which looks really unsightly. Why not introduce under-pavement skips as used in Spanish cities? Also, try to encourage 400			,		,				some more high-end shops to the area. Look at how west part of Westbourne grove has improved.
469			1		1	1			Preserving adequate space for the Saturday Farmer's Market is a vital component to plans for improving Notting Hill's centre. I have been going the Market plans in control and the Market plans in the Market
470			,						to the Market since it started and would probably not patronise any of the High St shops there if not for the market.
470			'		1	1			Keep the farmers market, ensure it has a new home if necessary- such as the UCK car park in Victoria Gardens
471					1		1		The Farmers Market is an important part of the community feel of the 472	1				1			1	area, so I would be sure that it is still centrally located.	Complete re-think needed. Priority should be given to active travel modes	Realistically A would be a good start, but a total rethink would be good if by increasing pedestrian space and providing protected (segregated) cycling facilities. Traffic volumes here are too high and should be reduced to reduce a pollution.
4==			,						Likiply we need to an arrange to a second se	to reduce pollution.	acquire strips of land to help provide space for pedestrians, cafes, cycle tracks.
473			1		1	1			I think we need to encourage the use of empty shops, get landlords to lower rents	plus improve the alley way to the car park>
									in order to keep the local community using what there is already there. COUNCIL TO LOWER RATES , MAYBE FOR A LIMITED TIME TO	keep spending down and only do what is need to improve signage, clear pavements, improve signage, reposition bus stops if necessary, clear
									ALLOW NEW SHOPS TO OPEN AND BECOME VIABLE. Keep the farmers market, always full and keeping local producers in business, less	clutter, we need the traffic to flow so keep the pavements as they are better signage packaging to be thrown away< less air miles all together more environmentally beneficial. do we need more office space? we do need more affordable housing< don't need more expensive fats to 474			1		1	1				Don't forget more cycling parking and filtered permeability making walking improved by giving over road space to the many many cyclists who make	and cycling more attractive than cycling.
475			1		1			1	use of the area.  Please give the market a nice new home. It is the reason we come to
476		1			1		1		Notting Hill every week. What ever happens you must keep the Saturday Farmers' Market - it enables everyone to purchase fresh, organic and reasonably priced food and attracts residents and visitors alike. In fact if you really wanted to attract additional residents and visitors you could develop an indoor market on the current site (as an example of architecture you could look 477			1		1			1	at the new indoor market in La bauble, France).
478			1		1			1	The farmers' market is a really important local resource; please make
479	:		1		1	1			sure it survives.  I think it is vitally important that the Farmers Market is kept and	The crowded pavements are a nightmare to navigate - but so much traffic developed. It's a real local draw card and is loved and used by many! If it is relocated to a 'prettier' location and promoted properly it would draw	moves through the area it is difficult to find the balance. I think relocating bus stops might be a good idea - to less congested areas
480									even more people I'm sure. Please do everything you can to give the Farmers Market a really good place to be - its a vital part of the community and we really need it
481		1			1		1		Please allow it to continue through the development phase as well The quality of the buildings around the car park where the Farmers		What we do not want are more soulless office blocks or buy to rent
									Market is located is poor and, ideally, they should come down. However, that would entail major disruption for all concerned and perhaps their		apartments.
ш									owners could be persuaded to refurbish them.	I	I

482	1					1	1			Gentle renovations would go a long way:	- a cycling Route is necessary.	The buildings are iconic and need to be protected. They could be
										The road needs a cycling track There court yard in front of Newcombe House needs to be refreshed (maybe by adding a conservatory with cafe to the front, or by allowing the adjacent cafe (currently Frae Frozen Yogurt) to have seats outside where the metal-elephant-artwork is) Improving the space at Newcombe House, possibly by adding a roof terrace above Waterstones Allowing Paul Rhodes to have seats outside (except Saturday) Renovating Astley House in line of the Cafe Nero-Part of Newcombe House House Making use of the car-park behind Newcombe House outside of Saturdays. This space needs to be refreshed or built upon.	- Also, the pedestrian space needs improvements on Saturdays.	improved by adding conservatories (in front of Newcombe House), roof terraces (Newcombe House above Waterstones and above the dry-cleaner in Kensington Church Street, or some light roof buildings).
483	1			1				1		KEEP: Farmers Market (Priorityl), Tylers, Calders,, Waterstones / Book Warehouse, Chegworths, Post Office, pubs, banks and restaurants.  REPLACE: The much-missed Kensington Place doctors surgery.	Re-site the bicycle racks outside the FRAE shop - they block half the pavement and seriously impede pedestrian flow when there are crowds, e.g. on Saturdays.	The tower blocks - particularly Newcombe House - are an eyesore and always have been : out of scale and in conflict with the prevailing architecture.
										3	Remove the ridiculous "sculpture" (supposed to represent an elephant?) outside Newcombe House, by Waterstones. You could put the relocated bicycle racks here.  Don't waste the rate-payers money on publicly-funded "artistic installations". They appeal to few, annoy many and are ignored by most-	Option C "transform the centre with a number of taller buildings" is a dreadful idea and should be firmly resisted. Apart from their ugly intrusion into this predominantly low-rise area, tall buildings cause what the report refers to as a micro-climate - and we call wind squalls - whenever the wind blows.
484			1			1		1		The comment you make about it being a thoroughfare is the most	and have as short an appreciated life as does the artistic fashion that inspired them. Marylebone High Street didn't need them, and neither do we.  Absolutely rethink - with a properly innovative way of giving more space	I actually quite like some of that architecture but realise it's probably not
485		1			1			1		important - it's a horrible multi-lane carriageway where priority is given to cars driving through rather than to the people visiting. This is the fundamental change that needs to be made.	to pedestrians and proper safe and segregated tracks for cyclists (not shared pavements).	to everyone's taste.
486			1			1			1	The farmer's market is one of the best aspects of shopping in NHG and I hope it will be a priority to retain it and provide a god central space for it		The post-war buildings have little architectural merit and appear to be beyond repair. I think it would improve the aspect of the south side if the
487						1	1			This is an extension of Oxford sty and a key tube interchange. Traffic flows every day and people flows on market days do not make it a place to linger and it is hard to see how this could be changed.		building line were pushed further back  I think the liveable city idea should trump the visitor experience and developers delight scenario.  Where affordable housing exists it should be preserved. A mixed resident
										The Farmers market is presently an oasis of community and a treasured respite from the traffic. It would be a shame if this baby was thrown out with the bathwater!		pool makes for a better and more characterful neighbourhood than a rich 'ghetto'
488		1	1		1	1			1	I do not think we need go as far as introducing another tourist attraction - Portobello Road is quite enough!	There does not seem a lot to chose between options B and C. Relocating the tube stations would be extremely expensive - and feasible only if	The current opportunity to redevelop NH should be seized - but not if it means replacing it with another tower.
490		1									substantial redevelopment was allowed - so not very realistic in my opinion.  As a Fox Primary Parent I feel there are 2 pedestrian areas that need	No tall towers addressing:  (1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Video City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.
											I believe this crossing needs to be made more visible for road traffic vehicles (cars, motorbikes and cyclists). The signal button needs to make the lights change sooner, especially during school rush hour (8-9am and 3-4pm). Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.
											(2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing.
											I believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of Notting Hill Gate) to Valentina's (on South side). As well as a crossing f this is pedestrian crossing between Metro Pizza and Valentina's is another option.
491			1			1			1	Streetscape: reconfigure in the spirit of what was done on High Street	Both of the above mentioned crossings currently create a potentially dangerous situation for our children and it is only a matter of time before	Taller buildings can work. Terrace shops (currently shabby) can be
492					1			1		Ken. Play on the positives of a wide thoroughfare and the vistas, the impression of space it provides. Does the North end of Ken Church St need to be this wide though?  Retail: Marylebone High Street is a successful template  As a Fox Primary Parent crossing Notting Hill Gate regularly, I believe that it is of utmost importance to develop a safer pedestrian crossing system in this area. Two especially dangerous crossings need	As a Fox Primary Parent crossing Notting Hill Gate regularly, I believe that it is of utmost importance to develop a safer pedestrian crossing system in this area. Two especially dangerous crossings need	improved following the example of what was done on Gloucester road (at the Queen's Gate Terrace level)
										addressing:  (1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Video City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.	addressing:  (1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Video City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.
										the lights change sooner, especially during school rush hour (8-9am and 3-4pm). Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.	3-4pm). Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.
										(2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing.	(2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing.
										I believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of Notting Hill Gate) to Valentina's (on South side), as well as an additional pedestrian crossing between Metro Pizza and Valentina's for those walking up / down the south side of the road.	I believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of Notting Hill Gate) to Valentina's (on South side), as well as an additional pedestrian crossing between Metro Pizza and Valentina's for those walking up / down the south side of the road.
493			1			1	1				dangerous, especially for children. Generally, balustrades could be used near the crossings - which is the case for some crossings but not all, and	We think that Notting Hill gate is very polluted and that the crossings are dangerous, especially for children. Generally, balustrades could be used near the crossings - which is the case for some crossings but not all, and
										Importantly not for the main crossing (from the Gate cinema to Recipease). Regarding pollution, simple measures such as wide pavements could help. More fundamentally, it would be great to rethink Notting hill gate and Kensington church street as they are currently capturing a lot of traffic and therefore pollution, while there is no alternative routes for pedestrians. We see a lot of children in pushchairs or walking in both Notting Hill gate and Kensington church street.	importantly not for the main crossing (from the Gate cinema to Recipease). Regarding pollution, simple measures such as wide pavements could help. More fundamentally, it would be great to rethink Notting hill gate and Kensington church street as they are currently capturing a lot of traffic and therefore pollution, while there is no alternative routes for pedestrians. We see a lot of children in pushchairs or walking in both Notting Hill gate and Kensington church street.	importantly not for the main crossing (from the Gate cinema to Recipease). Regarding pollution, simple measures such as wide pavements could help. More fundamentally, it would be great to rethink Notting hill gate and Kensington church street as they are currently capturing a lot of traffic and therefore pollution, while there is no alternative routes for pedestrians. We see a lot of children in pushchairs or walking in both Notting Hill gate and Kensington church street.
										(1) the main crossing (from the Gate cinema to Recipease): it is very busy with pedestrians, and noisy. With small children, it is very difficult to cross safely as they are distracted by the cars and buses which are going in various directions. One solution would be to create a bridge for	(1) the main crossing (from the Gate cinema to Recipease): it is very busy with pedestrians, and noisy. With small children, it is very difficult to cross safely as they are distracted by the cars and buses which are going in various directions. One solution would be to create a bridge for	(1) the main crossing (from the Gate cinema to Recipease): it is very busy with pedestrians, and noisy. With small children, it is very difficult to cross safely as they are distracted by the cars and buses which are going in various directions. One solution would be to create a bridge for pedestrians to walk on so that there is no risk when crossing to be hurt. The drawback of the bridge is obviously for pushchairs and wheelchairs which could hardly go on it. One solution would be to start the bridge between the back of the Pain quotidian and the Gate cinema so that the slope is progressive and doesn't rely only on stairs. On the other side of the crossing, the slope could end towards the end of Recipease and	pedestrians to walk on so that there is no risk when crossing to be hurt. The drawback of the bridge is obviously for pushchairs and wheelchairs which could hardly go on it. One solution would be to start the bridge between the back of the Pain quotidian and the Gate cinema so that the slope is progressive and doesn't rely only on stairs. On the other side of the crossing, the slope could end towards the end of Recipease and	pedestrians to walk on so that there is no risk when crossing to be hurt. The drawback of the bridge is obviously for pushchairs and wheelchairs which could hardly go on it. One solution would be to start the bridge between the back of the Pain quotidian and the Gate cinema so that the slope is progressive and doesn't rely only on stairs. On the other side of the crossing, the slope could end towards the end of Recipease and there could be stairs ending before Recipease. If the bridge cannot equipped with an easy access for wheelchairs / pushchairs, then the other crossings available on Notting Hill Gate could be used (as long as they are improved - see below). If the 'bridge' idea is not feasible, perhaps it would be possible to create a tunnel so that pedestrians could cross under the road.	there could be stairs ending before Recipease. If the bridge cannot equipped with an easy access for wheelchairs / pushchairs, then the other crossings available on Notting Hill Gate could be used (as long as they are improved - see below). If the 'bridge' idea is not feasible, perhaps it would be possible to create a tunnel so that pedestrians could cross under the road.	there could be stairs ending before Recipease. If the bridge cannot equipped with an easy access for wheelchairs / pushchairs, then the other crossings available on Notting Hill Gate could be used (as long as they are improved - see below). If the 'bridge' idea is not feasible, perhaps it would be possible to create a tunnel so that pedestrians could cross under the road.
										I also agree that the two especially dangerous crossings which follow need to be addressed:	I also agree that the two especially dangerous crossings which follow need to be addressed:	I also agree that the two especially dangerous crossings which follow need to be addressed:  (1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ
494	1					1	1			(11) The small, divided oelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EC The Saturday Farmers' Market is an absolute essential to me. It is one of just two true farmers' markets in central London that opens from 9am on Saturday. I am a vegetarian and having high-quality vegetables that actually taste like something and aren't overpackaged is very important to me. Please do not relocate it if possible. It is so convenient to both the		THE STUAIL COMPRES DERICAL CROSSING (From HOMANG & BARRett/GAP to EQ.
495		1				1		1		Tube station and to a Barclays bicycle docking station.  Need to retain the character of independent shops and keep any architecture in line with the character of those shops.
496			1			1			1	Farmers market is not visible enough.  There needs to be a square or meeting place where people can meet and hand out controlly. There's no real centre to Notting Hill.
										hand out centrally. There's no real centre to Notting Hill	I

497			1			1				Notting Hill Gate looks terrible and nothing but a thorough fare. Really needs complete rethinking with plenty of desirable retails shops for locals and not the touristy tat or estate agents. Ban any more licenses for estate agents. Please please keep the farmer's market. Access to quality affordable organic is essential to the enjoyment and benefits to living around here. it's part of my weekly routine!
498	1				1			1			As a Fox Primary Parent crossing Notting Hill Gate regularly, I believe that it is of utmost importance to develop a safer pedestrian crossing system in this area. Two especially dangerous crossings need addressing:
											(1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Nideo City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.
											I believe this crossing needs to be made more visible for road traffic vehicles (cars, motorbikes and cyclists). The signal button needs to make the lights change sooner, especially during school rush hour (8-9am and 3-4pm). Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.
											(2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing.
											I believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of Notting Hill Gate) to Valentina's (on South side), as well as an additional pedestrian crossing between Metro Pizza and Valentina's for those walking up / down the south side of the road.
499	1			1			1			Retain the pleasant mix of less expensive, ethnic cafes and shops with the prestigious ones on Church Street. The market is important. It has a		I believe less central control is better. Let things develop organically.
500			1				1			loyal following of locals who presumably also patronize other shops.  The Saturday Farmer's Market must be of central focus to any		We should aim to retain certain key architectural structures as evidence revitalisation project. It is a vital part of the neighbourhood and is supported by faithful clientele who arrive week after week, rain or shine. We rely upon the weekly arrival of local farmers for the bulk of our comestibles. It is not merely a place to procure the best food possible; it is a community hub of conversation, activism and general joi de vivre. Relocation should be considered as a last resort and only temporarily.		of the evolution of Notting Hill Gate
501	1									There should be no suspension in Farmer's Market activity as this would leave both farmers and residents in the lurch.  I would suggest making it more green not more concrete. Plant trees.	The old half empty 60s or 70s buildings are the only things to be	Not tall buildings, it will ruin the skyline as much as the current
301										There are enough art galleries in the locale. The market is in a good site for locals and those of us who travel by bus and has been for several	refurbished.	dilapidated ones.
										decades. Perhaps put a large roof over the Farmers Market such as the one in Holland Park opera, rather than make it airless and solid with a concrete. Why weren't the stall holders informed? Most of them hadn't a clue until I handed out the yellow pages left on the side of a new stall 502			1			1		1		holder. These are the people, along with the long standing customers who have a right to say how they feel.  I would like to see the plans ensure the Saturday Farmers' Market is	Making the area more cycle-friendly would be of great benefit to locals allowed to continue to exist, and if there is a need to relocate it, that it is provided a space that allows a greater number of people to be aware of its existence, support local farmers, and get access to great produce not often available in supermarkets.	and tourists alike, and I think should be considered a priority.
503			1			1			1		As a parent of children at both Fox Primary & Holland Park School I cross Notting Hill Gate regularly and believe that it is of utmost importance to develop a safer pedestrian crossing system in this area.
											Two especially dangerous crossings that need addressing are:
											(1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Video City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.
											We believe this crossing needs to be made more visible for road traffic vehicles (cars, motorbikes and cyclists). The signal button needs to make the lights change sooner, especially during school rush hour (8-9am and 3-4pm).  Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.  (2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing.
											We believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of 504			1			1				NHG is such a tragedy. Ugly shop front extensions hide attractive old buildings opp Kensington Church Street; the tower blocks are poor	pedestrian tranic light clossing from warks & Spencer (of North Side of	See previous comments on front page.
										examples of cheap postwar modernism; the 3-way junction between Ken Park Road, Pembridge Road and NHG remains ungainly; Pembridge Road down to Portobello Road remains dangerous; the retail estate is unnecessarily dowdy and incoherent. Instead of a successful public- private partnership it has been a bodge of public planning (when the Gate was straightened) and commercial tenacity. Various attempts to green and brighten it have made the best of a bad job. We need a competition not just for a gallery or museum but to rethink the whole area.
505		1								Congratulations to RBKC for thinking this through.
506		1			1		1			to make all the road crossings on Notting Hill gate av, more secure especially to go to Fox Primary school. It is TOO dangerous, children by foot and / or scooters are unpredictable. Thank you
507			1		1			1		Another important topic is safety. Many parents need to cross Notting Hill	In terms of crossings see previous page Gate in the morning for school runs. Currently there is no safe cross over for Campden Hill Road from Valentina's to the other side of the road and vice versa. A pedestrian light would be very welcome. In addition it would be helpful to give pedestrians time to cross on one light as opposed to two (from M&S to Valentina's but also from Gap to EQ Hair). The crossing from GAP to EQ Hair is currently taking a very long time, which causes unsafe crossing, because the wait is too long. Also it seems for that particular spot that cyclists and vehicles is too long. Also it seems for mat particular spot mat cyclists and venicles often don't realise there is a crossing and drive through it. Of course, this results in a potentially dangerous situation for our children.
508	1				1			1
509		1			1			1		Some of the architecture is really interesting but you do not really see it! The original row of shops along the L/H side from Notting Hill Tube towards the West End in particular. They are in a poor state. Many have terraces above the shops that could be developed into green outside space for the offices, shops, or flats above it could look stunning, as in 510		1				1	1			does in Westbourne Grove nr the Old Post Office.
511			1			1			1		Notting Hill Gate is incredibly ugly!	Again, these buildings are brutal and it is a wind trap
											It is also extremely windy, and I would look to redesign the entire stretch from Jamie Oliver to Marks and Spencers with very clearly marked route
ш											to Portobello Road.

F10			4			4			4	Chroat areasings	I lived in DDI/C for 5 years (having just moved to Chapharde Dush in late
512			1			1			1	Street crossings	I lived in RBKC for 5 years (having just moved to Shepherds Bush in late 2012). As my children have all attended (and one still attends) Fox Primary School in Notting Hill Gate, the area remains a daily part of my routine. I love it, but welcome the suggested changes to bring the Gate in line with the rest of surrounding areas—all of which are beautiful. I understand that the Borough is inviting comments regarding its redevelopment and I wanted to add my thoughts. There are four street crossings that are less safe and convenient than they should be.  The crossing at Notting Hill Gate between Holland & Barrett and Video City is besieged by buses, cars and cyclists who constantly threaten to overtake even when the green man is still flashing. Moreover, it takes a LONG time to cross. It deserves a puffin crossing that permits pedestrians to cross the entire way (instead of stopping in between to begin the process anew) in the necessary time.
											The crossing at Campden Hill Road and Notting Hill Gate is patently unsafe. It has no formal crossing, so we pedestrians just have to look in 3 directions and hope for the best. I rarely cross there with my children because I deem it too risky. Surely there is a way to redress this as it make me disinclined to custom the businesses west of Campden Hill Road.
											The crossing at Ladbroke Terrace is equally unsafe with many cars and cyclists and no formal crossing venue for pedestrians.  Finally, the crossing at Kensington Place next to Fox Primary deserves a zebra. There should also be more speed bumps on Kensington Place. There are too many children crossing this road not to address the speed and safety matters that concern them.  Otherwise, we look forward to improved facades on the buildings of 513 514	-	1	1		1	1		1		Traffic management and safety of pedestrians. Separate tourist flows and other people.	I feel it is very important to improve the safety of the pedestrian crossings.
515	1					1	1			Separate tourist nows and other people.	The one that connects Gap to EQ Hair across Holland Park Ave is dangerous. The pedestrian green man is very infrequent which encourages people to dodge the traffic. One stream is often stationary, giving the illusion of safety. I crossed the other day with my daughter and we were nearly knocked over by a cyclist speeding down the hill westward on the inside lane. I would recommend one continuous crossing or more frequent changes of lights. The crossing at the top end of Campden Hill Road is also very slow and hardly ever seems to give pedestrians a chance to cross. It is also very dangerous. So improvements to these crossings should please be a priority in your plans. Thank you!
516	1			1					1		the small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland and barrette/Gap to	Notting Hill Gate appears unattractive due to some run down 50s
											Video City on Noting Hill Gate needs to be made more visible for road traffic vehicles. The signal button needs to make the lights change sooner. Ideally we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross in one go. Issue: children safety with Fox school nearby. The bottom of of Campden Hill Road where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road despite 3 way traffic. Children end up jay walking to get across. Installing a pedestrian traffic light crossing would help. Again there is an issue with children safety with Fox school nearby.	buildings that look out of place in this generally charming neighbourhood. Something also needs to be done with street rubbish, which is an issue in the area.
517	-		1			1				Pedestrian crossing in this area are very poor. There are three immediate and obvious points of danger/difficulty for the large number of children that have to cross Notting Hill Gate daily:  1.) Notting Hill Gate and Campden Hill Road (outside M&S) a very busy three way intersection with pedestrian option (staggered) on only one of the three junctions. There is nothing on Campden Hill Road where the	Repeated from previous page:  1.) Notting Hill Gate and Campden Hill Road (outside M&S) a very busy three way intersection with pedestrian option (staggered) on only one of the three junctions. There is nothing on Campden Hill Road where the pavements are particularly narrow. On the East side of the junction there is nothing. This is a key route to from Holland Park secondary and Fox Primary school and with cars coming from 3 directions it is only a matter	West London doesn't need another Westway, so a mix of buildings/functions suits the area.
										pavements are particularly narrow. On the East side of the junction there is nothing. This is a key route to from Holland Park secondary and Fox Primary school and with cars coming from 3 directions it is only a matter of time before there is an accident involving a school child.  2.) Pedestrian Crossing between video city and tescos. This is staggered and the delay on pressing the button is about 90 seconds to 2 mins. This crossing is used by children extensively and with the delay and the stagger there is a lot of crossing on red. Suggest this is re-timed and the stagger removed.  3.) Eastern side of Notting Hill Gate and Pembridge Road (outside	of time before there is an accident involving a school child.  2.) Pedestrian Crossing between video city and tescos. This is staggered and the delay on pressing the button is about 90 seconds to 2 mins. This crossing is used by children extensively and with the delay and the stagger there is a lot of crossing on red. Suggest this is re-timed and the stagger removed.  3.) Eastern side of Notting Hill Gate and Pembridge Road (outside Foxtons), the barriers in the central reservation are incomplete since the water repair works leading to people attempting to cross here, including children (they should obviously go on the Western side, but Foxton's), the barriers in the central reservation are incomplete since the water repair works leading to people attempting to cross here, including children (they should obviously go on the Western side, but children/people don't always mange to be smart). This is exacerbated by the illegal parking, by mostly Foxtons staff, outside their office on the corner which obscures visibility and causes traffic from Pembridge to be blind as they come around the corner. Maybe some CCTV to enforce the	children/people don't always mange to be smart). This is exacerbated by the illegal parking, by mostly Foxtons staff, outside their office on the corner which obscures visibility and causes traffic from Pembridge to be blind as they come around the corner. Maybe some CCTV to enforce the double yellow lines?
										double yellow lines?  Aside from that: The market space could be used more often than Saturdays and particularly the access from Notting Hill gate needs cleaning up. There is	Also the speed of traffic through what is a pedestrian/shopping area can be very high particularly heading West. Priority to cyclists (cycle lane) and crossings (see above) should help address this.
518	-		1			1	1			place to go through and not a place to go to.	This is a heaven-sent opportunity to use a very wide carriageway to provide safe space for cycling, that will keep cyclists separate from cars, buses and taxis and allow continuous connections to the off-carriageway cycle route in Kensington Gardens.	These buildings are part of the identity of the area and could do with a refurb; however, streetscape changes will have a much bigger impact on the quality of the place.
										By reallocating space away from motor traffic towards cyclists and pedestrians, a higher quality place would be produced.	Lots of people (including me) cycle through Notting Hill Gate every day none of us feel safe in the current environment.  For examples, see here: http://www.aviewfromthecyclepath.com/2010/08/comparisons-of-british-vs-
540	_										dutch-streets.html and here: http://www.aviewfromthecyclepath.com/2009/11/costings-of- improvements-for-cyclists.html
519 520		1		1				1
521		1		1						Would be lovely to have cafes with tables on the wide stretch of pavement, more plants.
522			1			1			1	Design Museum will be in Holland Parkhope they will have a lovely outdoor cafe.  When you look above street level, NHG is looking very tired. The lack of any maintenance to period buildings has become and eyesore and the	There are too many pedestrians at peak times during the year not to radically rethink the layout of NHG
523		1			1			1		60's office blocks need renovation or redesign.
524	1		1			1	1	1		The ticket office area for LT underground at Notting Hill is very cramped. As part of the re-think, The access to the underground station should be re-designed and enlarged.	The whole street needs to be re-designed and the architecture made more appealing.	In general, taller buildings deprive those in smaller, adjacent buildings of light and start dominating the skyline. The unfortunate re-development of Charles House on Kensington High Street with taller buildings coming right up to the street are a case in point. Moreover, taller buildings set precedents for other developments to follow. Who would wish Notting Hill to resemble Manhattan?
526	1				1		1				As a Fox Primary Parent crossing Notting Hill Gate regularly, I believe that it is of utmost importance to develop a safer pedestrian crossing system in this area. Two especially dangerous crossings need addressing:
											(1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Video City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.
											I believe this crossing needs to be made more visible for road traffic vehicles (cars, motorbikes and cyclists). The signal button needs to make the lights change sooner, especially during school rush hour (8-9am and 3-4pm). Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.
											(2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing.
527	-		1								I believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of

E20				1				There are used too many cofee shairs/shi shi maniques have/estate	T	It depends what you meen by deteriorate as banding this word around
528				1				There are way too many cafes chains/chi chi manicure bars/estate agents!! .We must have something cultural that links back to why all these tourists come in the first place! Where are Notting Hill's roots? dug up and replaced with multi million pound empty properties. Please		It depends what you mean by deteriorate, as banding this word around will just give developers an opportunity to build higher and bigger. Are they unliveable? Unworkable? Do they need a facelift only?
529	1			1		1		consider the original community that was here in the 50's and get inspired by this thought instead.  Refurbishment should include the tube station.
530				1		1		I think the crossings on Notting hill should be rethought as they are	maybe what I have outlined is I this section?	keep the look reflecting the vibrant mix and diversity of the area - try not dangerous and have led to tragic deaths. Please can the crossing by the telco be a coordinated crossing so both lights turn as they are never in synch and it is terrifying being in the middle with a child or a buggy. Also please consider a crossing at the light at the bottom of Campden hill road to consolidate that light as so many children cross there throughout the		to have too many high street stores. make it a colourful gateway to Portobello road.
531	1			1			1	day.
532				1		1		It is not just the visitors (principally on Saturdays) to Portobello Market who swarm through the station but, once-a-year, the Notting Hill Carnival makes the centre more of a thoroughfare. These considerations make easy & adequate access & exits important in planning the future & satisfy	See my previous comments	The area does not need any more tall, slender, buildings. The creation of additional housing or office spaces will increase the need for parking, off-street or otherwise.
533	1			1	1			the need for cafes, coffee shops & fast food-outlets.
534	1			1	1
535		1		1		1		<ol> <li>Vital to keep the Farmer's market as a community hub on Saturdays-if reclated should be kept in 200-300 yards radius. If you destroy this asset it would be a huge mistake.</li> <li>Newcombe House is an eyesore at ground level, mainly because of heavy concrete facade/barriers, which make the tiny piazza in front a windswept, impractical place. Need more opened up, planted space.</li> <li>Doubt that this is cost-effective for office developers.</li> </ol>	Improvement of street furniture and ending the "car canyon" effect will be welcome, but reducing traffic flow in this major East-West artery will simply create rat-run pressure and associated problems for residents in the area. Is there a possibility of re-routing some of the traffic flow North of the Gate, earlier?	Do NOT raise the height of Newcombe House, instead open it up at approximately the same height.
536								Anything that improves the absolutely unattractive appearance of N Hill Gate. Friends and visitors are always amazed at how such a famous area, with such fine architecture and wonderful parks, can have such a shabby/scuzzy looking High Street! I have to agree with this analysis and look forward to seeing the proposals.
537	1			1	1			Improve the green spaces and add more trees along the streets.	Install zebra crossing opposite MacDonald's and also between M&S and	Refurbish/rejuvenate existing buildings. Make better use of existing
538				4		1		The Seturday Formers Market is quite unique feature of Netting Hill gets.	Valentine's. Increase pedestrian and green spaces.	buildings. Do not build or replace tower blocks.
538				1		1		The Saturday Farmers Market is quite unique feature of Notting Hill gate area which also benefit both farmer and local residents. The location is also convenient and does not affect any social or civil activities. It is better to keep the Saturday Farmers Market at this current place. Other proposals are good and need to be considered.
539		1	1			1		Notting Hill has no distinct character at the moment, with little reason for visitors to linger — usually it's a spot to get through on the way to Portobello. More independent shops would help this, but the landlords will have to make the rents affordable!	Really obvious, really LARGE signage to Portobello is the obvious answer starting from inside the tube station. The pedestrian crossings are fine, and people can cross under the road, too.	Newcombe house looks so dilapidated! Something smarter, less tall?
540		ĺ		1		1
542				1			1		As a Fox Primary Parent crossing Notting Hill Gate regularly, I believe that it is of utmost importance to develop a safer pedestrian crossing system in this area. Two especially dangerous crossings need	The town centre should not become too dense with tall buildings. A couple, tall, nicely designed constructions should be sufficient to bring new commercial (office + retail) and housing space, without overcrowding
									addressing:  (1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Video City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing	the centre.
									light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.  I believe this crossing needs to be made more visible for road traffic vehicles (cars, motorbikes and cyclists). The signal button needs to make the lights change sooner, especially during school rush hour (8-9am and 3-4pm). Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.  (2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing.
									I believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of Notting Hill Gate) to Valentina's (on South side), as well as an additional pedestrian crossing between Metro Pizza and Valentina's for those walking up / down the south side of the road.
543			1				1	More table and chair licenses could make the area more of a social destination.	Pembridge Road filter is really dangerous. Signs to Portobello should be much clearer. Aside of this we think the traffic/pedestrian balance is OK.	We'd support a complete re-design of the 1950's buildings if there were some genuine improvement to the area. However, if this is just adding a
								Portobello tourists could be advised to go to Ladbroke Grove, in the same way that tourists are advised not to get off at Covent Garden, but at	Notting Hill Gate is an important traffic thoroughfare and shouldn't be impeded; pedestrians shouldn't be able to cross more easily. (We don't drive - it's adequate for pedestrian crossings.)	tower to an already rag-tag group of buildings, we would not support that, and think that the existing buildings would negatively impact on any new development rather than vice versa. In a way, the whole high street
								Leicester Square.	Improving frontages, adding foliage might help.	needs redesigning to something less ugly, but that's a huge undertaking. Cladding what is already there seems the most cost effective way to
								The farmers' market is one of the best amenities for locals in the area. Please make sure it is relocated nearby if it is not possible to leave it in		improve the look. It's currently very mediocre, despite having been the centre of creative talent for the past 3 decades. It might be worth looking its current location.  You already have two museums nearby: Kensington palace, and the new design museum. It seems that Hyde Park is popular in summer with people playing sports: why not make something linked with what's already		at Shoreditch's boxparks in the interim period.
								popular in the area, rather than trying to compete with the south Kensington side of Hyde park.
								It seems Bayswater has the go-ahead to redesign, and refresh near Whiteleys, Why not blend the council boundary, combine finances and develop the Bayswater/Nott Hill junction, rather than competing?
								Finally, please be aware that the independent traders of Kensington High Street, Hillgate Street, some on Notting Hill and many on Portobello road are very much valued, important for their own business, and for the survival of the area. Let's not turn it into another Westfield, please.
544		•		1		1		out that of the died. Eate not term it and directle to defined, pleade.	As most Fox Primary & Holland Park School children cross Notting Hill Gate regularly, we believe that it is of utmost importance to develop a safer pedestrian crossing system in this area. Two especially dangerous crossings that need addressing are:  (1) The small, divided pelican crossing (from Holland & Barrett/GAP to EQ Hair/Video City) on Notting Hill Gate. Cyclists & vehicles drive straight through it, as they often don't even realise it is there. Also, the crossing light takes a long time to change so many pedestrians end up crossing on a red light.  We believe this crossing needs to be made more visible for road traffic vehicles (cars, motorbikes and cyclists). The signal button needs to make the lights change sooner, especially during school rush hour (8-9am and 3-4pm). Ideally, we would like to have a single crossing that would give pedestrians enough time to cross Notting Hill Gate in one go.
									(2) The bottom of Campden Hill Road, where there is no proper pedestrian crossing over Campden Hill Road between Metro Pizza (west side of Campden Hill Road) and Valentina's (east side). Children who cross Notting Hill Gate (from Marks & Spencer to Metro Pizza) and want to get to Fox school, are currently forced to jaywalk to get across Campden Hill road despite the danger of three-way traffic. Holland Park students also frequently use this crossing. We believe this problem would ideally be solved by installing a single pedestrian traffic light crossing from Marks & Spencer (on North side of Notting Hill Gate) to Valentina's (on South side). If this is not possible then installing an additional pedestrian crossing between Metro Pizza and Valentina's is another option.  Both of the above mentioned crossings currently create a potentially 545		1						We do not want any more high riose. However, the share and a second state of the share and the share	dangerous situation for our children and it is only a matter of time before someone gets hurt or worse.  There should be consideration of the fact the road is guite dangerous for	High rises will make a windy area worse which immediately area.
545				1	1			We do not want any more high rises. However- the shops, cafes etc will have to complete with the chain stores at Westfield therefore there should be a priority for one off or start up businesses. This can be	There should be consideration of the fact the road is quite dangerous for almost all concerned.	High rises will make a windy area worse which immediately makes an area unattractive.
								financed by a good mixture of housing and offices. Affordable housing should be a mixture of owner occupied and rented. I can see advantages 546	1				4			in a museum or gallery but I think that would be better in Portobello Road which is close to the existing Museum of Brands.  I think the area would be improved - and the economy of the local shops -		One of the best things about Notting Hill is that it is mainly low rise. This
540	'							if they could look to introducing more shops that residents would want to use on a regular basis for daily needs. Marylebone High Street has		One of the best things about Notting Hill is that it is mainly low rise. I his allows you to see the sky and - if you are lucky - the sun set. Taller buildings would take away this charm of actually being able to see the managed it. Also to keep the farmer's market which adds colour and interest - and people who want to buy things - on a Saturday. I'm not against a new museum or art gallery but I do not think that it would be of		sky.
								against a new museum or art gailery but I do not think that it would be or as much direct help to local shopkeepers or to the residents.

547	1					1	1			Make Notting Hill Gate a street for everybody and not too exclusive. Good average priced butcher, baker, greengrocer or general store other than M & S. There is always Westbourne Grove and Holland Park to go to. The		Shop signage improvements and fewer ugly, garish colours. Bright is fine but some are truly shocking colours. Gloucester Road north of Cromwell shopping on west side has some unobtrusive but useful signage which is
548	1					1	1			Underground exits and station need a major revamp. Arriving there makes you feel as if you are arriving somewhere shoddy. The most important thing for me is making sure that the Saturday Farmers' Market remains or is relocated to a great location. The farmers'		inoffensive.  No need for taller buildings
549	1			1			1			market is clearly one of the core community points for Notting Hill Gate on a weekly basis.  As a long-term resident of NHG I would hope that you continue to serve	Definitely better signage to Portobello Road!! I am a cyclist and I park my
550		1			1			1		the needs of well established residents by protecting the farmers' market. Portobello Road is the main tourist attraction in the area. If you want to preserve the local colour and attract more people emphasize the market/local village aspect of the area. That is what attracted many residents in the first place and continues to attract visitors. Treat the whole area a "living museum" so to speak, rather than isolating its local colour in a building where it can't live, breathe or serve anyone. This means minimal chains, more local and small UK businesses and maintaining or even featuring the farmers market. Queens Park has done exactly this. As a result that area has appreciated in value massively both financially and in terms of quality of life to all involved, and attracts people outside the area to it.	bike at NHCs. Nearly every time I'm there on a Saturday, someone asks me how to get there. And to the farmers market if you feature it as in Queens Park. If you want to attract more visitors to the area you will have to accommodate more traffic of all kinds - foot, cycles, public transport and cars.	retaining its history. It's the Royal Borough of Kensington, not Croydon. Mid-height and taller buildings will destroy the aesthetics and discourage tourism so that it might as well be Acton (or Croydon). Visitors come to see local colour not tall buildings. Long term viability depends on creativity and innovation. The only way that happens is by supporting local businesses that supply products and services locally. Offices and chains do not do this and encourage a brain drain and movement away from the area of the kind of people that add value to it. The kind of businesses that need to be in tall office buildings are in the City of London, or Singapore. So if you want to trash Notting Hill Gate and in the long run devalue it, put in taller, slender buildings so that no one will want to come there except people to have to because of their work (which is gradually relocating to the Far East anyway). The Joseph store on Westbourne Grove is a good example of a new building that kept within the feeling of the area. There used to be a petrol station on that corner. Now THAT was intelligent planning. Put in some controls around the aesthetics of the design of the signage and any new construction that integrate with the local colour of Notting Hill Gate and Portobello Market. Also the Tabernacle in Powis Square is a good example of taking existing buildings, refurbishing them in keeping with the tone of the area but positioning them more upmarket to broaden its appeal to the changing demographics of the area.
551	1			1				1		Diversity of character of shops important. Cinemas should be kept.	You need parking places and the road should not be narrowed. This is
										Roads should not be narrowed. Character and shops in Kensington Church Road should be kept as this is a focus for area. Do not think that a museum should be sought. Flats should be divided 50/50 between affordable accommodation and other	important road
552 553	1		1	1			1			Keep the farmers market please. It serves the local community as well as UK farmers. Rather than a dynamic museum (an oxymoron?), keep the local colour of the area and make the area more dynamic. It is already a tourist attraction.	If you want to attract more visitors you will definitely have to accommodate more traffic of all kinds. Better signage is a must! Every Saturday I am asked directions to Portobello market.	No towers of any height! Notting Hill is known for its quaint charm, the markets and it's history. Towers will detract from the tourism and turn it into another Croydon. Save the office buildings for the city of London and Singapore.
554			1			1			1		Please improve the pedestrian crossings, make them safer, easier for cars to spot so they are unlikely to drive straight through them. Ensure the frequency for crossing is enough so people and children are not tempted to cross when they should not.  Maybe frequency for crossing could be increased for school drop off and collect times.  Please make it safer as a student was hot by a car on Campden hill just last week.  Particularly improve the crossing on Kensington church street near Holland and Barrett close to edge street
555			1			1			1	Must keep the Saturday Farmers' Market. Awful Newcombe House should go.	Bearing in maintenance to see to eucle site of the bearing in mind the redevelopment of Exhibition Road, the tiling pattern on the roads, along with no defined beginning and end to the pavement is confusing to pedestrians and drivers, and must be extremely disorienting to foreign visitors. Let's avoid that on Notting Hill Gate.	Be careful about building heights. Too many tall towers will make it feel like a closed in corridor. Newcombe House is an eyesore.
556			1			1	1			Definitely keep the farmers market. Relocate if necessary, but a good new location is vital. The market provides a much wanted service to the local residents, and generally brings people out into the area, benefitting the cafes, restaurants, and shops.
567	1			1			1			David Game house should be retained in its present state, and not altered in any way. Although 1950's in style and design, the building is iconic and impacts tremendously on Notting Hill Gate, giving the street its own unique character. Without this building, Notting Hill Gate would be just another bland London thoroughfare with nothing, apart from perhaps the Coronet cinema, to suggest that it is in any way different from any other London high street.	The pedestrian crossing at the southern end of Pembridge Road at the junction with Notting Hill Gate is actually quite dangerous and, if it is to remain as a zig-zag pedestrian crossing, it desperately needs railings around it in order to guide the pedestrians who use it in the right direction.  The problem is that, until fairly recently, the crossing went straight from one side of Pembridge Road to the other side. Then, a few years ago, the crossing was split into a zig-zag crossing, causing pedestrians using it to have to take several steps to the left before turning right to cross the far side of the road.  Many is the time that I have seen pedestrians use the crossing as far as the centre of the road and then continuing straight across the far carriageway (instead of turning left to walk the few steps to the other half of the crossing) with the result that traffic has to stop in order to avoid hitting those pedestrians who (perhaps out of force of habit) continue to walk straight across.  In view of this, the crossing either needs to be straightened out to enable pedestrians to walk directly across both carriageways safely or, if the present crossing is retained, it desperately needs railings around it, in order to guide pedestrians to the correct place that will enable them to cross safely to the far side of the road.	David Game house should be retained in its present state, and not altered in any way. Although 1950's in style and design, the building is iconic and impacts tremendously on Notting Hill Gate, giving the street its own unique character. Without this building, Notting Hill Gate would be just another bland London thoroughfare with nothing, apart from perhaps the Coronet cinema, to suggest that it is in any way different from any other London high street.
558										It appears that no one has looked at the area without thinking about the architecture. what is needed first is to define the area. Is it successful? If not, why? The answer is that it is successful in many ways and not so in other. The shops which has survived are ones which we all, those of us who live in the area, value. We do miss the fish monger but Pret can pay more for the space, and out it went. We all love Tylers and use it for out odd things needed (hanging hooks and moth balls). The dog shop and nail bar is very popular. Even with Love Films success, video City is where we go in a hurry on a one night when at last we can stay home. Gap is convenient. Butlers is new and actually a good place for gifts and the laundry shop which also repairs shoes where I go when I need another year on my favourite shoes. Post Office is our one remaining one in the north. My husband's hair dresser has been there for 20 years or more. Waterstones is better than ever and a great place for children's books and a good browse, the banks are well used and a great services to both locals as well as the shop owners.  We all rely on both Boots and the other chemist.  I personally do not like Jamie's. The architecture is like a good tooth in a bad line of teeth. Tylers has better cook ware at less cost. The food is disappointing.  We do not need is more restaurants and especially ones with take away. Notting Hill Gate does not need to be anything other than what it already is - a central interchange and an area for locals. What we do need is local service shops such as a cheese shop, bakery (though Pan is pretty good), a good deli. We desperately need (regardless of what the NHS says) is another surgery.		Again, this question is biased and simplistic. Residents do not want taller
560		1				4			4	one of the boxes and respond in my own way. This area does need attention, but what we don't want are a bunch of cafes and shops catering solely to visitors as has happened in South Kensington. This is a residential area and the needs of residents MUST be considered. There should be useful shops - a fish monger, a book store, an stationary story such as Rymans, Tylers (what would we do without it!), boutique clothing stores. The Saturday Farmers' market is also important. The antique shops on Kensington Church Street are unique to the area and make the area lovely. Please keep them! Offices for small business above the useful shops are fine. Please no more betting shops or bureaus de change. Luxury flats are NOT necessary as well. What makes Notting Hill special is the diversity of people in it. No more cafes either with tables and chairs on the pavement.  Rethink would be valuable but not essential.	is very crowded on weekends and the tube station needs to be improved, especially in light of all the proposed redevelopment. As a resident, I would be opposed to the loss of parking spaces and focus on visitors. Visitors don't pay Council tax. Residents do! The whole focus of this question is on visitors and pedestrians. What about those people that actually live here?  Slowing down traffic and "discouraging" through journeys (should be on	looming buildings with more people in them. The area is very densely populated and the infrastructure simply can't handle it. It downgrades the quality of life for people that actually live there and frankly makes the visitor experience horrible too. Sure, the building need to be refurbished but not at the expense of residents who pay Council taxes.  Strategy should be for redevelopment over time of almost any sites - from
555						·				Retention/addition of offices vital to create enough footfall in the area - popping out for coffee, lunch, buying top up groceries, using banks/PO etc etc. Doesn't require lots of parking and so on which is said to be needed to help high streets	Westway!) important to improve feel of area. Was much more pleasant when road was closed for some months recently! Much better cycle and pedestrian provision. Important to include top end of Ken Church St and	Glos parts to frankly mostly scruffy late 18-19 century parts. Tall buildings fine if not oppressively sited - back from road like Newcombe House, not like Charles House redevelopment which feels far more "closed in" than previous buildings

Society in the disk of all other can be presented by the present of the control o	piece condition. For Notice yill (Calle to be transformed the public reals) recided a region, major retains.  People read to be encouraged to change their perception of Notice yill Calle from a place to go through and give of an equity as possible to one where it could become the social has for the community and have a the major of the community and have a their flow of the possible to one where it could become the social has for the development of country and have a the major of the community and have a three major of the community and have a three major of the community and have a community of the development. The community and have a community of the communi	Service for the many and includes and includes the many and and the many and includes the many and and the many and includes the man	March   Company   Compan	E64										Notting Hill Cate (NHC) is a less town contracts to the world	This is the key priority, even though maintaining the attractions is the	This is the key priority eyes though maintaining the attention in the
to selection the sear or exceptable for light of disciplings. Featuring the search of	Cate from a place to go though and gif out of as guickly as possible to one where it could become the social has for the community and the search of the community and the search of the community and the search of the community and the search opportunities. Widely the potential for the development of the could be the propertunity in the propertunity of the propertunity in the propertunity in the propertunity in the propertunity in the propertunity of the properturity of the propertunity of the propertunity in the properturity of the propertur	March   Marc	The content of the	561										shops to other uses and has reduced its effectiveness. It needs to strengthen its focus for its catchment area and take advantage of its	prior condition. For Notting Hill Gate to be transformed the public realm needs a major, major rethink.	needs a major, major rethink.
In the control of the	The man worty here in receiving the boards at the presentation is that her nodes are being brought of supparts of the development opportunities. Which the potential to the properties of the condition which the properties of the	## Part	March											strength as a public transport interchange. It needs to capture their interest, trade and loyalty.	Gate from a place to go through and get out of as quickly as possible to one where it could become the social hub for the community and have a	Gate from a place to go through and get out of as quickly as possible to one where it could become the social hub for the community and have a
Notice must be represented with the billion strengthmen and with the billion strengthmen and the billion strengthmen and the billion strengthmen and the billion strengthmen and the stren	gam, the answers are a continuation of the three presented. What seaks to be recognized a that there are more than it a failine people again, the answers are a continuation of the three presented. What seaks to be recognized is that there are more than it a failine people as year go through Roling Hill Gate it is a read transfer failing the people both on the three underground lines (Central, District and Circle) as well as the easily with the northidouch this as well as the easily and the secondary people both on the three underground lines (Central, District and Circle) as well as the base from the northidouch this as well as the easily and the control of	Company	Part											High Street, Westfield and Westbourne Grove. There is no point trying to bring in up-market shops - others do it so much better - to do so would	The main worry here in reviewing the boards at the presentation is that the roads are being thought of separately of the development opportunities. Widely the pavement, taking out the railings, more	mentioned. What about the south side of Notting Hill Gate with the
and community (scarcing on Charles) and search community of the community	Again, the answers are a combination of the three presented. What needs to be recognised is that there are more than 14 million people always or brough Horing Hill Gate. It is a regior transfer for many people always or brough Horing Hill Gate was a result of the state of the s		Service of the control of the contro													bringing down the whole estate? Many of us, I included, love the idea of
MSC useds to reprove its offer to the contract management of the contract m	as buses from both the north-sooth lerk as well as the eastwest link. Apvince going by Westellad from the north resorth with Charles (and the County of the Central Line. There is and counter the control of people on Saturday) and the County of the Central Line. There is an opportunity and the control of people on Saturday the Problem of the County of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to address the found to gogeth that one of the similation that the county of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to address the condition of the underground but also to celebrate it to make is part of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to address the condition of the underground but also to celebrate it to make is part of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to address the condition of the underground but also to celebrate it to make is part of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to address the condition of the underground but also to celebrate it to make is part of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to celebrate it to make is part of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to celebrate it to make it part of the Central Line. There is an opportunity to celebrate the Central Line. There is an opportunity to perfect the Central Line. There is a celebrate in the Central Line. There is a value of the Central Line. There is a value is a value of the Central Line Line. There is a value is a value of the Central Line Line. The central Line Line Line Line Line Line Line Line	March   Marc	Service of the control of the contro											local community. Kensington Church Street has been known for decades as the world centre for the highest quality antiques. This area seems to	needs to be recognised is that there are more than 14 million people a year go through Notting Hill Gate. It is a major transfer for many people	shops with the half divided ones with a kebab shop on one half and bureaux de change on the other is just sad. This is to some extent inevitable given the tourist attraction of Portobello Road, with demand for
In advantage in the object of office woder industry consideration of the condex of the	what is not on the cards is a wholesale redevelopment. There are 3 diversement. As considering the control of the underground but also to celebrate it to make is part of the Catas. This opportunity is not presented.  A Returbativ.  7 remove pediestrian guardralis and street clutter.  7 make the area more velocomine for visitors and the locals by improvinci.  Develop a new public space where the different modes of transport are rodred giving priority to pedestrians and cyclists. a place to pause on this very busy throcupfare.  Develop a new public space where the different modes of transport are rodred giving priority to pedestrians and cyclists. a place to pause on this very busy throcupfare.  Develop a new public space where the different modes of transport are rodreded giving priority to pedestrians and cyclists. a place to pause on this very busy throcupfare.  Develop a new public space where the different modes of transport are rodreded giving priority to pedestrians and cyclists. a place to pause on this very busy throcupfare.  Develop a new public space where the different modes of transport are rodreded giving priority to pedestrians and cyclists. a place to pause on this very busy throcupfare.  Develop a new public space where the different modes of transport are rodreded giving priority to pedestrians and cyclists. a place to pause on this very busy throcupfare.  Develop a new public space where the different modes of transport are rodreded giving priority to pedestrians and cyclists. A place to pause on this very busy throcupfare.  The 1950's destruction of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the side with the surface and any development of the pause	## 1	The discovery with the control of th											key strength is a public transport interchange - it high public transport accessibility. The Underground station should be the main access point	as buses from both the north/south link as well as the east/west link.  Anyone going to Westfield from the north or south will change to the  Central Line. There is of course the concentration of people on Saturdays	at retail zoning might help. Ultimately there has to be a successful business case if the shops here are to thrive, but given that so much of NHG is in the hands of two or three companies, it should be possible to See 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	A. Refurbish:  7 remove pedestrian guardrails and street clutter  7 remove pedestrian and remove well-common for visitors and the locals by improvement  8 remove well-common for visitors and the locals by improvement  9 remove pedestrian and remove sustainable pedestrian-removel  10 remove pedestrian many pedestrians and cyclicits, a place to pause on the various land and leasesholders. The negative environmental impacts of the various land and leasesholders. The negative environmental impacts of possitively encourage the healthy food offer including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  10 regarding food outlets.  11 remove pedestrian from the state of the idea of healthy food offer including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  12 remove pedestrian from the state of the idea of healthy food outlets.  13 remove pedestrian from the state of the idea of healthy food offer including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  14 remove pedestrian from the state of the idea of healthy food offer including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  15 remove pedestrian from the state of the idea of healthy food offer including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  16 remove pedestrian from the idea of the including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  17 remove pedestrian from the idea of the including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  18 removed without outlets of the idea of the including cales, restaurants and removed and that a state of the idea of the including cales and the including cales and removed and removed and the removed and the removed and the removed and the removed outlets and removed and the removed and remo	Set 1	Company of the process of the proc											offices should be maintained and increased with special emphasis on	market is the crowds. There is an opportunity to address the condition of the underground but also to celebrate it; to make is part of the Gate. This opportunity is not	what is not on the cards is a wholesale redevelopment. There are 3 developers and multiple other property owners. A piecemeal approach or a planning brief which does not address the whole area could leave us
woman the quality of the first, while making some the harboration of access and excess of the control of the production of the control of the	The whole area needs a radical rethink and the Council should be in the provision of the pr	The control of the co	The control of the co
Section   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1	Devoled a new public space where the different modes of transport are not considered giving priority. to produstrates and cyclasts: a place to pause on this weep hasy throughlane.  Create a healtheir, safer and more sustainable pedestrian-friendly environment.  Positively encourage the healthy food offer including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  The 1950's destruction of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the healthy of the healthy food offer including cales, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  The 1950's destruction of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the healthy of the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The awful at as many cars as possible should pass through the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The awful at a constitution of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the standard of the constitution of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the standard of the constitution of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the standard of the constitution of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the standard of the constitution of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the standard of the constitution of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea of the standard of the	Section 1	Second Content											maintain the quality of the offer, whilst making sure that the balance of	? remove pedestrian guardrails and street clutter
In any vity density infections area there will be conflicted of infections.  Whaten common // It spections of the Process of t	the various land and leaseholders. The negative environmental impacts of tall buildings on to need to be sail buildings. The building and architecture, glority encourage the healthy food offer including cafes, restaurants and "healthy" last food outlets.  The 1950's destruction of the old Notting HIII Gate was a result of the idea that as many cars as possible should pass through that as many cars as possible should pass through that as many cars as possible should pass through that as many cars as possible should pass through that as many cars as possible should pass through that as many cars as possible should pass through the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The availal architecture, gloring planning consent by RBK&C, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not happen.  The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abandoned.  All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced and the season of the public through the narrow Kenniggton Mail, between Church Street abandoned.  All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced and the Mitre Pub.  Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace both to not be sealed off at the Mitre Pub.  The central fails in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / garrity at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The motionway style lamps loved by late and road problems and the same processing and the bottom of Campden Hill Road (a M&S) is a killer. To the motionway style lamps loved by lamps loved by lamps loved by with no pause pop destrains. Proceed lamps emoved in the 1950's.  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a NS flow.  But as no of these lamps is expensed that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane.  Feople live here I-low are differ	and the company of th	section of the control of the contro			1	1	1				1
Notice community a practive of defender of community. Predictorating right and local communities with be princeted community. Predictorating right and local communities with the princeted communities of the public communities of the public community. The communities of the public communities of the public communities of the sense is proceed. The memory and proceed board develope half-local communities of the communities	tal buildings needs to be carefully considered. We would suggest that landmark buildings do not need to be tall buildings and architectural design need to positively reinforce the image and urban place-making concept plan andogeted for Nothing Hill cate was a result of the idea that as many care as possible should pass through the area and any of buildings were not worth preserving. The avoid architecture, given planning consent by RBK&C, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not happen.  The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abandoned. All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced away down Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and the Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quiet backwater as Palace Gardens Terrace where care ownershly low is obvious.  The central island in Noting Hill Gate and malings should be replaced with the style of large removed in the 1950.  Be spiritually the provided of the provided for crossing points transfer than traffic lights seri	The content of the co	See 1 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2 1 2	564			1			1			1
important to encourage and protect load divene businesses, entange.  The protection of the contrary of entange of the beating year possibly by the policy of the protection of the contrary of the protection of the contrary of the protection of the contrary of the contrar	placetrely encourage the healthy food offer including cafes, restaurants and "healthy" fast food outlets.  The 1950's destruction of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea that as many cars as possible should pass through the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The avoid architecture, given planning consent by RBKAC, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not hoppen. The standard should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Streat abandoned.  All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced waxy down Palae Gardens Terrace. The appalling routing of traffic through the narrow Kensington Mail, between Church Street and Palaec Gardens Terrace. Should case making it two and Palaec Gardens Terrace should case making it two and Palaec Gardens Terrace should one should be removed and traffic lights all card on the first planting that the strain off Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quite backwater as Palaec Gardens Terrace to should one and should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The Terrous of the traffic lights will solve the removed in the 190%. Beliefs a beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. Propole live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a NS flow.  No results are solved the strain of Church Street and solved to the season as hold the provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a NS flow.  No results are the bottom of Campden Hill Road should be reduced with the silve	Set of the	Part											"Vibrant community" is perceived differently by various sectors of the community. Residential rights and local communities must be protected	this very busy thoroughfare. Create a healthier, safer and more sustainable pedestrian-friendly	tall buildings needs to be carefully considered. We would suggest that landmark buildings do not need to be tall buildings. The building and
Encourage active and cursorial programmes.  For course, a distinctive horselet to the certain spire possibly by  1 Yes. Cars we have a pedestrian creating at the junction of Campdan Hil.  7 Yes, Cars we have a pedestrian creating at the junction of Campdan Hil.  8 Yes, and an Nation; Hill Card on the cars in wait of the lot of the period of the cars of	Issued by NHS Property Services Ltd. on behalf of NHS West London Clinical Commissioning Group  The 1950's destruction of the old Notting Hill Gate was a result of the idea that as many cars as possible should pass through the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The avrilul architecture, given planning consent by RBK&C, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not happen.  The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abandoned.  All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced away down Palace Gardens Terrace.  The appalling routing of traffic through the narrow Kensington Mall, between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making recombination of the sealed off at the Mitre Pub.  The central slaten of Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Lindern Gardens removed. The central slaten in Noting Hill Gate and railings should be palaced with the side of the strength o	Company of the company of the service of the company of the comp	Example part of the control of MS Proper Service at the charter of MS Proper Service at the MS Proper Service at the charter of MS Proper Service at the MS Proper Service at											important to encourage and protect local diverse businesses, enhance	Positively encourage the healthy food offer including cafes, restaurants
Yes. Can we have a pedestiman consumption the junction of Campdon Hill   Seed and highlings I floating the footbook of the process of the p	that as many cars as possible should pass through the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The avulu architecture, given planning consent by RBKSC, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not happen. The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abandoned. All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced away down Palace Gardens Terrace. The appalling routing of traffic through the narrow Kensington Mall, between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should not be sealed off at the Mitre Pub. Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is sols or residential but not treated as guide backward as Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is obvious. The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic flights removed. The terrowal of the traffic lights days to the traffic should be replaced with the style of larges removed in the 1950s. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and frucks with no pause for pedestrians.  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube of the way to take your chances against continual flows of cars and frucks with no pause for pedestrians.  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate as one of these lances is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian flendy AND not buses and traffic turning north, rem	Section	1											Encourage active and curatorial programmes.	and nealiny last 1000 butlets.
Exercised and the second of	that as many cars as possible should pass through the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The avulu architecture, given planning consent by RBKSC, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not happen. The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abandoned. All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced away down Palace Gardens Terrace. The appalling routing of traffic through the narrow Kensington Mall, between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should not be sealed off at the Mitre Pub. Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is sols or residential but not treated as guide backward as Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is obvious. The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic flights removed. The terrowal of the traffic lights days to the traffic should be replaced with the style of larges removed in the 1950s. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and frucks with no pause for pedestrians.  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube of the way to take your chances against continual flows of cars and frucks with no pause for pedestrians.  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate as one of these lances is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian flendy AND not buses and traffic turning north, rem	Second Continued Continu	March   Control and control to March   Control and control to the belief and of the Control and Storage 40 Contr	565	-		1			1			1	Yes. Can we have a pedestrian crossing at the junction of Campden Hill
The reason tourists come to Nating Hill Gate is not to look at the boutstill fine present and any ord full-stidings were not worth presenting. The salked activities of the presenting consent by PERAC, cannot be interesting to a contraction. Worth buildings add character.  The read should be the vow year of the new year short and the top of Chruch Street and new year short and the present of Chruch Street and Palace Gardens Termos.  All the buses Students Termos.  All the buses Students Termos and the table of Chruch Street and Palace Gardens Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be the vow year of the character and palace Gardens Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired and Palace Gardens Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos should not be sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos should be retired to the sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos should be retired to the sealed off at the Many Pub.  The read should be retired to the Students Termos of the treating should be retired to the sealed and the Contract Termos and the students of the Students Termos and the students and discussed the sealed off the Students Termos and the students of the Students Termos and the students the sealed off the Many Pub.  The retirement termos the students the sealed should be reducted to the Students Termos and the students the sealed should be reducted to the students of the Students Termos and the students Termos and the students Termos and the students Termos	the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The awful architecture, given planning consent by RBK&C, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not happen. The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abandoned. All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced sway down Palace Gardens Terrace. The appalling routing of traffic through the narrow Kensington Mall, between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should ease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should ease sale off at the Mitre Pub. Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is obvious. The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate. The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow. N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road (abunded to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning l	by the property of the propert	The recent business come to Name you of a control, we want to will be a control of the control o	566	1									Very difficult to create an identity to Notting Hill Gate because all the
The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abordoned. All the buses should burn sudhwards at Church Street and not be forced. All the buses should burn sudhwards at Church Street and not be forced. All the buses should burn sudhwards at Church Street and not be forced. All the buses should burn sudhwards at Church Street and not be forced. All the buses should burn sudhwards at Church Street and not be forced. All the buses of the company of the street should coase making it to an and Palece Gunden Terrace should coase making it to an and Palece Gunden Terrace should coase making it to an and Palece Gunden Terrace should not be sealed off at the Mark Public Character of the street o	The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of Church Street abandoned.  All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced away down Palace Gardens Terrace.  The appalling routing of traffic through the narrow Kensington Mall, between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should not be sealed off at the Mitre Pub.  Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace should not be sealed off at the Mitre Pub.  Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quiet backwater as Palace Gardens  Terrace where car ownership? Juse is obvious.  The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate.  The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950s.  Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents.  The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians.  People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate bas both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  NB. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane.  But so en of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning	The motivate all the row, we and the nor way such the section of the fundamental characteristic measurements of the fundamental characteristic measurements and characteristic measurements and the fundamental characteristic measurements and characteristic	The control and all to be one way and the case of way and the case											The reason tourists come to Notting Hill Gate is not to look at the brutalist rubbish architecture but to go to Portobello Road where the quaint	the area and any old buildings were not worth preserving. The awful architecture, given planning consent by RBK&C, cannot be resolved without wholesale demolition which unfortunately will not	destroyed.  It is ironic that the only buildings that are not considered awful were those old structures that had character but were demolished and now only 50
All the buses should turn southwards at Chrurch Street and not be forced away drown Palace Gardens Terrace. The appositing routing of traffic through the narrow Keenington Mall, and the properties of the proper	All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced away down Palace Gardens Terrace.  The appalling routing of traffic through the narrow Kensington Mall, between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it wo and Palace Gardens Terrace should not be sealed off at the Mitre Pub.  Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quiel backwater as Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is obvious.  The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate on the state of	All of Control Control Broads and Country Direct and not be blocated and the property of the control of the Country Direct and not be blocated and the control of the Country Direct and not be blocated and the country of the Country Direct and Notice Country Direct Coun	All the base based on succession and Church Store and must be funded the following the store of												The road should all be two way and the one way scheme at the top of	years later no one could care now if the same process happened again.
between Church Street and Place Gardens Terroes should not be seaded off at the Maring It two and Place Gardens Terroes should not be seaded off at the Maring It two and Place Gardens Terroes should not be seaded off at the Maring It two and Place Gardens Terroes should not be seaded off at the Maring Pub.  Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Plabec Gardens Terrace to like the strain of Church Street that is a Terroe when care commentally use is to should be removed and stratic lights / Stampt and Church Street that is a Terroe when care commentally care is the Abdissor. The central sland in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and stratic lights removed. The removal of the traffic flows and discourage car uses from driving through Notting Hill Gate.  The mothersy ship length covers of the Terroe viole for consisting points rather than traffic lights.  Belishab beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to curs and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing the bottom of Campdon Hill Road (all MAS) is a biller. To against continual flows of care and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing the bottom of Campdon Hill Road (all MAS) is a biller. To against continual flows of care and more to pedestrians. People live here I was an and mucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here I have an exhibition meant to get to school?  Traffic management is a serious concern.  It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/hight economy in this is inappropriate to encourage an evening/hight economy in the care of the series of the control of the series of the control	between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease making it two and Palace Gardens Terrace should not be sealed off at the Mitre Pub.  Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quiet backwater as Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is obvious.  The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The removal of the traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate.  The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950s.  Beisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents.  The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians.  People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane.  But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	Set 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Note   Property   Pr												All the buses should turn southwards at Church Street and not be forced
Miller Pub. Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is all an residentiary and the strain off Church Street that is all and residentiary to the strain off Church Street that is all and residentiary to the strain off Church Street that is all and residentiary to the strain off Church Street that is all and residentiary to the strain off Church Street that is all and residentiary to the strain off Church Street that is all and residentiary to the street in the street of the street Terrace where car ownership / take is obvious. The Royal Crescent one way system should be be abandoned and all traffic glipts terroword. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic glipts terroword. The removal of the traffic lights will swit raffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Noting Hill Caste. The motorway skyle lamps loved by the flow of traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Noting Hill Caste on ond sky that it is a residential area and should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residentis. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (an M&S) is a killer. To walk up Noting Hill Caste towards the tube you have to take your chances people live here! How are children meant to get to school?  For all 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Traffic should be allowed to flow from Notting Hill Gate down Palace Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quiet backwater as Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is obvious. The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate. The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow. N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	Set 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Second Continue   Second Con												between Church Street and Palace Gardens Terrace should cease
Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quiet backwarte as Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is do-vious. The central sland in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gastry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crosscent one way system should be bandonder and all straffic lights removed. The Royal Crosscent one way system should be bandonder and all straffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic sights will slow traffic flows and discounting our users from driving Hill Gate and all straffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic sights will slow traffic flows and discounting a strain of the removal of the traffic sights will all strain traffic lights.  567 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is also residential but not treated as quiet backwater as Palace Gardens Terrace where car ownership / use is obvious. The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate. The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. Towalk up Notting Hill Gate to vards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate hould be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	Codering Terrine to table the state of Churum Street has the control of the state of Churum Street has the control of the state of Churum Street has the control of the state of Churum Street has the control of the state of Churum Street has the control of the state of Churum Street has the control of the state of the state of Churum Street has the control of the state of the stat	Govern Terrors to take the start and Church's Street that is a successful and Palacon Auditors. The control start of the s												Mitre Pub.
The central island in Noting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / ganger at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights in glober traffic lights will show traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Noting Hill Gate.  The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950s.  Beliaha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (and MSS) is a killer. To walk up Noting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual Rows of cars and trucks with no peause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/ingifty economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  The farmers' maket is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pawement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on the common of salts; the grid	The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and traffic lights / gantry at Campden Hill Road and Linden Gardens removed. The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate. The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	The contract latend of Noticing Hill Gate and residence in Record and Indicating Annual Read and Full Leading Contract Contract Read and Full Leading Contract Read and Section Read Read and Full Leading Contract Read and Section Read Read and Full Leading Contract Read Read Read Full Leading Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Full Read Read Read Full Leading Read Read Read Full Leading Read Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Read Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Read Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Read Read Read Full Leading Read Read Read Full Leading Read Read Full Leading Rea	Trails   T												Gardens Terrace to take the strain off Church Street that is
The Royal Criscoent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will solve traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting HIII Gate. The motionway tyle lamps loved by TFL encourage paped and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950s. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden HIII Road (all M&S) is a killer. To waik up Notting HIII Gate to wash to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians.  People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & clubs facilities in Protrobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting HIII Gate to shop for Protobello Road. The concern closured in sideal, away from traffic, but close to it; speadous enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic lights removed. The removal of the traffic lights will slow traffic flows and discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate.  The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's.  Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	The Ricyal Concessor are way system should be abstractioned and all training larger above the processor of the state (larger above that of the state (larger above the processor and should be abstracted and all training larger above the processor and should be abstracted and all training larger above the processor and the state (larger above the processor and the	The Royal Collector one way system should be shandward and all rating (plates memorial the training shall be trained.)												The central island in Notting Hill Gate and railings should be removed and discourage car users from driving through Noting Hill Gate. The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1590's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Noting Hill Gate towards the tubey out have to take your chances.  Feople live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club lamps between Kensington of Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club an a E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington overbearing.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington overbearing.  Where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of reflocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Cate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate. The motorway style lamps loved by TFL encourage speed and also do not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	Second Continue   Second Con	Server was a service of the provided for century and all control of the provided for century and a service provided for century points after than trafficials.  567   1												The Royal Crescent one way system should be abandoned and all traffic on say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Selisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commit to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and alfeady busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious option to care commondate a number of stalls; the grid	not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style of lamps removed in the 1950's. Belisha beacons should be provided for crossing points rather than traffic lights.  Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	of sample measured area and should be replaced with the style of lange enrowed in the 1807s.  667  678  679  780  780  780  780  780  780  780  7	on as by that it is a resoluted ame and should be registed with the style of lattings enrowed in the 150%. Bitakina become should be provided for crossing points rather than trails (July 18 per 19 p												discourage car users from driving through Notting Hill Gate.
See   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1   1	Give less priority to cars and more to pedestrians and residents. The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	September   Sept	September   Sept												not say that it is a residential area and should be replaced with the style
The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards with no pause to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians.  Feople live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to clinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate to scan and trucks with no pause for pedestrians.  People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate is aboth an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington church Street and Campden Hill Road abould be reduced to single land of the sacretic traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the payement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at M&S) is a killer. To walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	The crossing at the bottom of Campden Hill Road (at MAS) is a killer. To walk up Nothing Hill add to walk up Nothing Hill add to have to larkey out not be such our American Spariest confundal flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. Pedele here Intelligent to exchange the such as a power of the such as a	The crossing at the bottom of Campden HII Road cat M&S) is a siles. To leak purchased the tube your hands the properties. Propose here have no continual flows of care and muck with no pause for podesticants.  Froger hands here here have no collection manut to get to chordo?  Traffic management is a serious concerv. It is is appropriate to encourage an evening/high economy in this stablewy immediate commercial continual flowers. The continual hands the continual to the best here will be continued to single the base both an EVM traffic AND a NS 80v.  Shapherd's Bush Westfeld.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left.  The farmers' market is an importan walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  This is ENTIRELY dependent on stories? 10 stories? or more? Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning land for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Swheep is to reproduce the community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate as not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	walk up Noting HII Clate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrains. People live here! How are children meant to get to school?  Talfic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/right economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximpt to cineme. Substitute in Protection area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush-Westfield.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be live that the double lance between Kennington controlling to the pawment area on Noting HII class of the second area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The tibes of relocated nearby to a commondate a number of stalls; the grid layout encourages conversations between customers and sustemers and states of the power of tibes of the relocated nearby to a common	Second   S	567			1			1	1
Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow. N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington AND and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	Be very careful not to unduly restrict the flow of traffic. Notting Hill Gate has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	569   1	Traffic management is a serious concern. It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/right economy in this relatively small commercial confre with such close proximity to ciniema & club facilities in Protoble of serious (acute with such close proximity to ciniema & club facilities in Protoble of serious (acute with such close proximity to ciniema & club facilities in Protoble of serious (acute with such close proximity to ciniema & club facilities in Protoble of serious (acute with such close proximity to ciniema & club facilities in Protoble of serious (acute with such close proximity to ciniema & club facilities in Protoble of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with serious control of serious (acute with such close proximity) and control of serious (acute with serious control of serious control of serious (acute with serious control of serious (acute with serious control of serious control of serious (acute with serious control of serious control of serious control of serious control of serious (acute with serious control of serious contr												walk up Notting Hill Gate towards the tube you have to take your chances against continual flows of cars and trucks with no pause for pedestrians.
It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello Road area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.  N.B. It has been suggested that the double lanes between Kensington Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	stories? To stories? or more?    Stories   Sto	It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/hight economy in this relatively small common and Shepherd's BushVWestfield.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed read. The class of the same a more affairable for the same and before th	568	1										People live here! How are children meant to get to school?
club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane. But as one of these lanes is essentially a turning lane for buses and traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	State	club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and Shepherd's Bush/Westfield.  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating is to the powerent area on nothing fill Gate is not good. This is of the sheep the parent area on nothing fill Gate is not good. This is of the powerent area on nothing fill Gate is not good. This is of the powerent area on nothing fill Gate is not good. This is of the powerent area on nothing fill Gate is not good. The care of location is ideal, away from ratific, but close to it; special see only the parent area of the product of the power area of the product of the	569			1			1		1		It is inappropriate to encourage an evening/night economy in this	has both an E/W traffic AND a N/S flow.	stories? 10 stories? or more?
traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	traffic turning north, removing this 2nd Iane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrian friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating lide alto a visual factor of the part of t	traffic furning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How this area can be made more pedestrain friendly AND not become a major traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-steret enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pawment area no Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid layout encourages conversations between customers and stall-holders - this would be lost in a linear arrangement with busy main road behind:    571											relatively small commercial centre with such close proximity to cinema & club facilities in Portobello area, Westbourne Grove, Queensway, and	Church Street and Campden Hill Road should be reduced to single lane.
traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid	traffic blockage is hopefully something the experts can resolve!  But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.	Total Part   Tot	The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating flat to the pavement and needs to be left where it is or re-located nearby to an off-street enclosed area. The idea of relocating its to the pavement area on Noting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The concurages convenients between customers and customers and customers and ustomers and customers and custome											Snepnerd's Bush/Westfield.	traffic turning north, removing this 2nd lane would create a blockage. How relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid		relocating it to the pavement area on Noting Hill Gate is not good - this is far too public and already busy on Saturday morning with crows looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious encough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid layout encourages conversations between customers and ustomers and stall-holders - this would be lost in a linear arrangement with busy main road behind it.    Fox school playaround would be a good alternative.	relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is far toto public and already busy on Saturday morning with crowds looking for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid layout encourages and at all-holders - this would be lost in a linear arrangement with busy main road behind it.  571  1 1 1 5 1 5 1 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5	570			1			1			1	The farmers' market is an important community event and needs to be left		But keep the scale not too high. Street frontage is important.
for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid		for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; spacious enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid layout encourages conversations between customers and ustomers and stall-holders - this would be lost in a linear arrangement with busy main road behind it.    Fox school playground would be a good alternative.	for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but close to it; splosulose enough to accommodate a number of stalls; the grid layout encourages conversations between customers and customers and stall-holders - this would be lost in a linear arrangement with busy main road behind it.    Fox school playground would be a good alternative.											relocating it to the pavement area on Notting Hill Gate is not good - this is a	STI											for Portobello Road. The current location is ideal, away from traffic, but stall-holders - this would be lost in a linear arrangement with busy main		Fox school playground would be a good alternative.  There are a lot of visitors to the area on Saturdays, attracted by Portobello Road and the pavements become very crowded. I don't know what can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second hand clothing, collectibles and record shops which are used by both tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area, I use it every week.  159 TOTAL VOTES CAST 151 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 153 TOTAL VOTES CAST 154 TOTAL VOTES CAST 154 TOTAL VOTES CAST 155 TOTAL VOTES CAST 156 TOTAL VOTES CAST 157 TOTAL VOTES CAST 157 TOTAL VOTES CAST 158 TOTAL VOTES CAST 159 TOTAL VOTES CAST 150 TOTAL V	Fox school playground would be a good alternative.  Fox school playground would be a good alternative.  Fox school playground would be a good alternative.  There are a lot of visitors to the area on Saturdays, attracted by Portboello Road and the pavements become very crowded. I don't know what can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second hand clothing, collectibles and record shops which are used by both tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area, I use it every week.    159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   151   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   154   TOTAL VOTES CAST   157   TOTAL VOTES CAST   158   TOTAL VOTES CAST   159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   150   TOTAL VOTES CAST											layout encourages conversations between customers and customers and stall-holders - this would be lost in a linear arrangement with busy main road behind it.		571 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	There are a lot of visitors to the area on Saturdays, attracted by Portobello Road and the pavements become very crowded. I don't know what can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second hand clothing, collectibles and record shops which are used by both tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area, I use it every week.    159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   151   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   SOW   30%   34%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%   36%											road behind it.
571 1 1 1 1 There are a lot of visitors to the area on Saturdays, attracted by		what can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second hand clothing, collectibles and record shops which are used by both tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area, I use it every week.  159 TOTAL VOTES CAST 151 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 153 TOTAL VOTES CAST 154 TOTAL VOTES CAST 155 TOTAL VOTES CAST 156 What can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second hand clothing, collectibles and record shops which are used by both tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area. I use it every week.	what can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second hand not oltring, collectibles and record shops which are used by both tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area, I use it every week.    159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   151   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   154   TOTAL VOTES CAST   156   TOTAL VOTES CAST   157   TOTAL VOTES CAST   158   TOTAL VOTES CAST   159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   150   TOTAL V	571			1			1		1		There are a lot of visitors to the area on Saturdays, attracted by what can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second		tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area, I use it every week.  47 32 80 20 30 101 46 51 54  159 TOTAL VOTES CAST 151 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 150	tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to smarten up the shop fronts. Also, please keep the Farmers Market in the area, I use it every week.    47   32   80   20   30   101   46   51   54     159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   151   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   154   TOTAL VOTES CAST   156   TOTAL VOTES CAST   157   TOTAL VOTES CAST   158   TOTAL VOTES CAST   159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   150											what can be done to alleviate this. I would welcome attempts to make the area more attractive without losing its quirkiness, such as the second tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to		159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   151   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   154   TOTAL VOTES CAST   154   TOTAL VOTES CAST   155   TOTAL VOTES CAST   156   TOTAL VOTES CAST   157   TOTAL VOTES CAST   158   TOTAL VOTES CAST   159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   150   TOTAL VOTES C	1   32   80   20   30   101   46   51   54											tourists and residents. Perhaps they could be given some money to
area, I use it every week.		159 TOTAL VOTES CAST 151 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 152 TOTAL VOTES CAST 153 TOTAL VOTES CAST 154 TOTAL VOTES CAST 155 TOTAL	159   TOTAL VOTES CAST   151   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   152   TOTAL VOTES CAST   153   TOTAL VOTES CAST   154   TOTAL VOTES CAST   155   TOTAL VOTES CAST   155   TOTAL VOTES CAST   155   TOTAL VOTES CAST   155   TOTAL VOTES CAST   156   TOTAL VOTES CAST   157   TOTAL VOTES C		47	32	80	20	30	101	46	51	54
			Town centre: Rethink Streets: Rethink Buildings marginal		159	TOTAL VOT	ES CAST	151	TOTAL VC	TES CAST	152	TOTAL VO	TES CAST
		Town centre: Rethink Streets: Rethink Building: marginal			Town	n centre:	Rethink		Streets:	Rethink		Building	marginal			