Summary of results

---

The below information is a brief summary of the findings from this exercise. More detailed analysis can be found in the main body of this report.

Background

The Council intends to develop the land to the west of the existing Kensington Leisure Centre for a new school for the communities of North Kensington and will examine opportunities to develop a new leisure centre on the site of the existing facility.

The Council needs to make decisions about how best to use the site for the benefit of local people and those that will attend the Academy and use the Leisure Centre. A survey was carried out to help understand how people use the existing open space, Lancaster Green, and how people move through the area. A total of 119 responses were received.

Lancaster Green

A total of 44 per cent of respondents reported that they use Lancaster Green often, with a further fifth (20 per cent) reporting using it sometimes. However, just over a fifth (21 per cent) reported never using Lancaster Green.

Respondents were asked what activities they used Lancaster Green for. The most common activities were: relaxing, socialising and exercising

Other open spaces used locally

When asked about other open spaces they use locally, over two thirds (69 per cent) indicated they use Avondale Park and over a third (36 per cent) use Kensington Memorial Park. Over a fifth of respondents use each of the other open spaces listed in the survey; with 24 per cent using the space between Hurst Walk and Testerton Walk, 23 per cent using Maxilla Walk and 22 per cent using the space between Testerton Walk and Barandon Walk.

Playgrounds

Almost a third (32 per cent) of respondents reported that they, or their children, use the playground by the base of Grenfell Tower often or sometimes. Seventeen per cent of respondents reported that they never use this playground and two fifths said they did not have children or the question was not applicable.

Respondents were also asked which other playgrounds they use locally. Avondale Park was the playground used by the most respondents (45 per cent); in addition 29 per cent of respondents use Kensington Memorial Park. A quarter of respondents reported they use no playgrounds.

Moving around the area

Respondents were asked about the different routes they take as they move about the area.

Lancaster Green and car park next to Leisure Centre

Over half (56 per cent) of respondents use Lancaster Green and the car park next to the Leisure Centre often, to walk between Silchester Road and Grenfell Road. A fifth (20 per cent) also reported using this route sometimes; however 16 per cent never use this route.

The most common locations where respondents were going to or from when using this route were: home, Latimer Road underground station and a bus stop on Ladbroke Grove.

Summary of results

---

Almost three quarters (74 per cent) of respondents reported feeling very or fairly safe whilst crossing the area during the day; with half (50 per cent) feeling very or fairly safe crossing at night.

Pedestrian path alongside the railway arches

A total of 38 per cent use the pedestrian path alongside the railway arches that links from Bramley Road to Silchester Road often. In addition almost a third (32 per cent) use this route sometimes; however nearly a fifth (18 per cent) never use this route.

The most common locations where respondents were going to or from when using this route were: home, Latimer Road underground station and a bus stop on Bramley Road.

Over two thirds (68 per cent) of respondents reported feeling very or fairly safe whilst crossing the area during the day; with just over a third (34 per cent) feeling very or fairly safe crossing the area at night.

Dulford Street/Bomore Road area and Bramley Road

Over a third (35 per cent) often use the Dulford Street/Bomore Road area and Bramley Road. In addition over a fifth (22 per cent) use this area sometimes; however, nearly a quarter (24 per cent) never use this route.

Respondents were asked when using the Dulford Street/Bomore Road area and Bramley Road, which route they take. Over half (52 per cent) reported taking the Bomore Road, Treadgold Street, Whitchurch Road route often or sometimes. The same percentage (52 per cent) reported taking the Verity Close, Silchester Road route often or sometimes. Eight per cent reported taking another route.

Bomore Road, Treadgold Street, Whitchurch Road route

The most common locations where respondents were going to or from when using this route were: home, Latimer Road underground station and Kensington Leisure Centre.

Over two thirds (68 per cent) of respondents reported feeling very or fairly safe walking this route during the day; whilst 41 per cent felt very or fairly safe using this route at night.

Verity Close, Silchester Road route

The most common locations where respondents were going to or from when using this route were: home, Latimer Road underground station and Kensington Leisure Centre.

A total of 59 per cent of respondents reported feeling very or fairly safe whilst using this route during the day; with 41 per cent feeling very or fairly safe walking this route at night.

Priorities for the new development

Respondents were asked to indicate, from a list, which aspects would be important to them in a development in the area. Two thirds (66 per cent) felt open space was important and a further 43 per cent felt play space was important. A new leisure centre was seen as important by 45 per cent, with slightly less feeling new affordable housing was important (42 per cent). Just over a fifth (21 per cent) saw a new school as important to the development and ten per cent would like new private housing.

Summary of results

---

Order of importance

Respondents were also asked to give their top three priorities for the development of the area. A total score was calculated by weighting the responses.

The highest scoring priority is open space. This second highest priority is a new leisure centre, followed by new affordable housing.

Support for the Council's proposal

The majority of respondents (61 per cent) do not support the Council's initiative.

However, a third (33 per cent) of respondents did support the proposal on some level. A fifth (20 per cent) supported the Council's initiative, but had some reservations and a further 13 per cent supported the initiative without any reservations.

Introduction

The Council intends to develop the land to the west of the existing Kensington Leisure Centre for a new school for the communities of North Kensington.

The Council needs to make decisions about how best to use the site for the benefit of local people and of those that will attend the Academy and use the Leisure Centre. In order to do this the Council needs to understand how people use the existing open space, Lancaster Green, and how people move through the area.

Objectives of the exercise

The exercise was designed to gather feedback on how respondents use the existing open spaces and move through the area.

Methodology

An electronic and paper questionnaire was developed to capture feedback. The paper survey was delivered to every address on the estate and copies were available at consultation events, the reception of Grenfell Tower and the reception in the Leisure Centre. Residents were also able to complete the questionnaire online via the Council's website

The consultation period ran between November 2010 and March 2011. A total of 119 responses were received.

In addition to this survey, drop in sessions were held in November and December 2010. Information leaflets were also available as was information on the Council's website.

Calculating results

This report contains the analysis of completed survey forms. Where graphs are shown, figures included are usually percentage figures. Where percentages do not add up to 100 per cent this is due to computer rounding, missing responses or where respondents have indicated more than one answer. Some graphs contain actual number of responses where this was a more appropriate way of reporting results.

Tables of the full results (including percentages and actual numbers of respondents) can be found in appendix 1. A full list of the additional comments made can be found in appendix 2.

A new leisure centre was seen as important by 45 per cent, with slightly fewer feeling new affordable housing was important (42 per cent). The highest scoring priority is open space. This was the top priority of 32 respondents, second priority of 17 respondents and third priority of 21 respondents.

This second highest priority was a new leisure centre, followed by new affordable housing. A new school was listed as top priority by 15 respondents.

Other activities undertaken at Lancaster Green

As a cut through

- As a cut through route
- Getting from home to destinations I am going to
- I cross the area on my way to and from work. While I don't actively use the area in its own right I strongly feel that the local neighbourhood is enhanced by open spaces, in particular mature trees.
- I pass through the area several times a day.
- It's a breath of fresh air on my regular walks from Treadgold Street to Ladbroke Grove - a 'green lung' in a heavily built up area.
- Pass through on way to station
- rat run
- Short cut to station or bus stop
- Through fair to Lancaster Road to get to Ladbroke Grove or Bramley Road to get to Latimer Road Tube station
- To access Lancaster Road from home, via Grenfell Road
- Used to get to Ladbroke Grove
- Walk through it
- Walking
- Walking home
- Walking through to get to Latimer Road Station

Enjoy nature/open space

- Watching nature change through the seasons - the trees, the plants, the birds
- Just to enjoy the open space/trees and nature/seasons
- Just walking to see the scenery and admire it.
- These spaces are very important because we only have this space
- For fresh oxygenated air

Exercise or playing

- Physical Education and lessons
- My young son is ADHD and to lose the play area next to me will have a huge affect as we have no garden. This play area is an outlet to allow him to play and meet his friends. It will be very distressing for me and my children.

Feeding the birds

- Feeding the birds
