Policy 4.2: Offices. The Mayor supports continued induction of office supply benchmarks.

Chapter Two

Being considered at the EP:

Policy 2.13 and Annex 1: Opportunity/Institutional areas. The Mayor will support:

- Following the Government’s announcement at this examination, there has been a further review of the targets in the Plan. For the most part, the Mayor will support:
- The need to include targets was examined rigorously as the draft replacement Plan was prepared and brought forward. In general, the Mayor retained those that added value in planning objectives and stated that the amended Plan was forward looking:
- The Government has indicated that, following the removal of references to regional targets in the London Plan, it considers that those requirements, including requirements to set targets in Government statements of planning policy (many of which are applied to strategies in Government statements of planning policy as policy which also applied to the London Plan), will be a matter for him and London partners to consider.

In preparing the Plan, the Mayor has sought to apply the principles he set out in "Planning for a Better London" (July 2009):

The Mayor agrees that the changes he intends to propose to policies 3.9 and 5.2 go beyond what is appropriate to deal with as “significant early changes,” and that they should be subject to public consultation. He therefore proposes to bring forward a different policy approach that will enable policies and stakeholders to meet required needs in the light of local circumstances.

Accordingly, he intends to replace the current policy 3.9 and 3.4 with a table of these targets.
